ANNUAL REPORT 1969.

At the outset of the Report last year mention was made of the exciting experience of being involved in the ecumenical movement of our day with particular emphasis on the local areas.

This year I think you would want me to underscore this, as we see before our eyes, the reversal of previous practice in local inter-church groups and feel a sense of deep gratitude to God as we experience, to some degree at least, the fulfilment of our first stated aim... "... fellowship and co-operation between women of all Branches of the Christian Church." The interesting thing we are witnessing in several local areas at the moment is the reversal of usual procedure. We have not endeavoured to establish the local group or even given much real assistance in its formation. The pew members themselves, feeling the urgent need for greater fellowship and communion, have come together as an inter-church group and then sought to link themselves with other similar groups throughout the State in membership of this Council.

We will not easily forget the quiet serenity of Mrs. Joan Curtin, a member of St. Michael's Church, Lane Cove, who was with us at our Branches' Day gathering in February, as she told of the joy of the Catholic women who participated in Women's World Day of Prayer, 1967. Out of this was born the very vital Lane Cove-Longueville inter-church branch. Listening to Mrs. Curtin was a very moving and thrilling experience for each of us present as we felt ourselves more fully drawn into the living experience of the oneness that is found only in Christ our Common Lord.

And so, in 1969, we pause to give praise and glory to God that our women are finding within themselves a very definite need one for the other, no matter what their denomination, as they seek for greater understanding and avenues of service.

The women who worked so very hard to establish the Wybalena Hostel must indeed be heartened at the very real and prayerful concern of every member of Council that these monies be used as God wills that the fruits of such service and sacrifice will continue to benefit girls for many years to come. We express our thanks to the two speakers, Mrs. K.S. Harrison (Dunmore Lang College) and Mrs. McMahon (Y.W.C.A. project) for their clarity and candour as they answered the many questions which had been submitted to them at our March meeting.

This year we have had Jackie Kini, the current Winifred Kiek Scholarship holder, in New South Wales for the greater part of the year while she has undertaken intensive studies and training to enable her to take on further responsibilities in Girls' Brigade Leadership in New Guinea. Her visit has meant a lot to the many women in our State who have been able to meet and get to know Jackie; and the opportunity we had of introducing Jackie to some 300 Methodist women when a Promotions Committee team visited Maitland during late 1968 has stimulated much interest there in the whole concept of the Scholarship. This visit too, highlighted the need for suitable literature and study material for women's groups generally, as the women of Maitland Synod District quickly purchased every study book, and Circle of Prayer booklets and leaflets that we had in stock. Team visits to country areas are proposed in the future by our Promotions Committee and we thank them, and particularly Mrs. D.J.A. Verco, for the stimulus they are giving to inter-church work in many areas and also the sacrifice of time involved in this work.

Because, too, of our interest in Jackie's time spent in this State and her work here, the Girls' Brigade were invited to tell us of their work at one of our monthly meetings, and from this has come a very valuable contribution to the life of this Council through the affiliation of the Girls' Brigade and the appointment of two members to N.S.W. W.I.C.C.

In no small measure due to the quiet work and dedication of Mrs. Clarice Butler, the Fellowship of the Least Coin is linking, through prayer, hundreds of individual women and groups throughout the State as more and more feel the need to be involved together.

We express our gratitude to Mrs. Buschmeyer (wife of Dr. Fred Buschmeyer, who was Guest Preacher at Pitt Street Congregational Church) for broadening our horizons in so many ways while she was with us this last year. Her knowledge of and service to United Nations; Women's World Day of Prayer at the international level; as well as Fellowship Day and World Community Day, stirred our very real interest and enthusiasm and we were indeed sad to have to bid her farewell at our March meeting. We rejoice to have had her with us on Council and look forward to perhaps having her return to Australia even if just for a visit. Mrs. Buschmeyer will now become our link with the American churches and these other special committees, for she has promised literature and other information as it becomes available.

While she was with us in Sydney Mrs. Buschmeyer convened the original meeting of city church representatives to consider holding a city service on World Community Day, 1968, and that 120 women were involved in this service was indeed encouraging.

During the year we have been privileged to share the thoughts and experiences of several very valuable people, including Bishop Graham Delbridge, who left us remembering that UPSALA was about men because of God's love for men; and that it was, on the other hand, a world meeting, on world level, dealing with world problems. Rev. M.A. Thomas from Bangalore, India, that noted Priest of the Matoma Syrian Church, talked with us at a morning coffee hour this month of women's role in India today, with particular emphasis on the involvement - and lack of involvement - of Christian women. A suggestion came from this meeting that perhaps regular communication between our Council and some similar body in India would prove very enriching and give us greater understanding of world problems from a woman's viewpoint.

After submission of a draft to each denomination for their comment, the new Constitution of W.I.C.C. was adopted by Council in September last year and we thank Mrs. Ralph and the committee for their careful revision of the constitution so that nothing of value should be lost but that the new draft should enable us to function much more effectively that our stated aims may indeed become our common practice.

We have reached the end of another year of service and would pause to remember the service of two of our members. Firstly, Mrs. C.W. Stolz, who at our November meeting, was given the honour of Life Membership of this Council for her work and dedication since 1947.

For the grace and competence of our retiring President Mrs. Joyce Gilbert, we are indeed both grateful and thankful. This has been a busy and not always an easy year for her. As you have heard it has seen several changes and innovations; new members have joined us and been made welcome by her; and for both Mrs. Millar and Mrs. Gilbert the best possible useage for Wybalena monies has taken much time and constant prayer. This, together with the fact that Mrs. Gilbert's aged parents have been in hospital or in her home for many weeks have made these difficult days for her and we would say to her that we have indeed appreciated her leadership and her serene faith throughout this year.

To our incoming President, Head Deaconess Mary Andrews, we pledge our prayer support this coming year and look forward with joy and enthusiasm as we undertake another year of service.

In conclusion, the words of St. Matthew disturb me as he says: "Again, the Kingdom of Heaven is like a seine net which was cast into the sea, the kind of net that gathers all kinds of creatures and things into itself." In London in the dock district there was a woman who lived with a Chinese. She found her way somehow or other to a Women's Meeting in a church. She brought with her her half-caste child. She liked it. She came back again. At her second visit the minister of the church explained that the other women had said if she came again then they could not possibly come because they could not associate with people like that. She answered him wistfully "Sir, I know I'm a sinner; but isn't there anywhere a sinner can go?"

As church women may we remember this year that the Kingdom IS like a net which gathers into itself of every kind. We are church women - but all women are God's.

18th April, 1969.

W.D. DOUGHERTY,
Secretary.
