BUSINESS ARISING FROM CORRESPONDENCE:

The Special Project chosen for World Community Day this year is Joseph's Corner support service to families living with alcohol/drug addiction. It was agreed that we respond to National that we endorse the project, but feel more information would have been helpful.

PRESIDENT'S BUSINESS:

1. Day Conference is set down for 18 September 2006. The day will incorporate a time when we can hear of work being done, hopefully with the focus on women and families. Council members were asked to advise Carmel Keys of any organisations that might be considered and approached to supply a speaker. There will also be a 'spiritual enrichment' component to the day. It was noted that Vivian Cheung, the present Winifred Kiek Scholar from New South Wales might be available to come.

2. Nomination of Thora Thomas for a National Council of Women honour to go ahead. Lyn Middleton will attend the Jean Arnot luncheon later this month where the award will be made to the selected 90 year old.

3. Beryl McLaughlin showed a small booklet produced by the Women's Christian Temperance Union – Mocktail Recipes – for non-alcoholic drinks. She also had a 'match book' containing forget-me-not seeds, with the message directed to expectant mothers, asking them to forgo alcohol during pregnancy for the well-being of the foetus.

ANY OTHER BUSINESS:

Council agreed to a proposal to research and collate profiles of Presidents of NSW Women's Inter Church Council/ACW NSW Unit. A list of past presidents was available along with the guidelines for information as was used for Honouring Australian Church Women entries. Denominational delegations are asked to gather the information and a photo for presidents who represented them. It is hoped that this might be done by the latter part of 2006.
