Dear Mrs Jones,

It was with deep regret I heard yesterday of the great loss that you & the Church have sustained, & I desire to offer my heartfelt sympathy. I have often marvelled at the way he has recovered from attacks of his malady, & been thankful that he was so long spared to do the excellent work which was so close to his heart. His influence for good has been widespread & a very large number will mourn his loss. But to you & your family the loss contains other factors which add to its poignancy & yet there is the grand mitigation of all such loss that it is but for a time, & that meanwhile he whom we miss is called to higher service, & his works follow him.

Yours faithfully,
J. E. Grafton & Armidale

Mrs N. Jones
