ACTING RECTOR'S LETTER

All Saints' Rectory,
Petersham.

1st July, 1951.

Dear Parishioners,

In this issue of "The Chronicle" we have another interesting and illuminating letter from the Rector which I am sure you will read with much appreciation. Mr. and Mrs. Adams are having a most enjoyable and profitable time in visiting these wonderful and historic places in the Old Country, and their experiences will be of untold value to the parishioners of All Saints' for years to come. Their visit to the Lakes Country must have given them a great thrill, not only in beholding the beauty of the country, but also in its historical significance. Mrs. Price and I had the pleasure of visiting the Lakes some years ago, and taking part in the Keswick Convention, and the Rector's letter brings it all back again to us.

June has been a busy month for some of our church organisations. In spite of a very wet night the Juvenile Fancy Dress Ball, organised by the Young Marrieds' Club, proved most successful, and showed a profit of £15, which went to augment the Sunday School Funds.

The Women's Missionary Luncheon, held on Wednesday, 13th June, was well attended, and a very happy hour was spent. The Women's Guild was responsible for the success of the function on Friday, 22nd June. The Young Churchmen's Institute held a dinner in the Parish Hall for the dual purpose of celebrating the Commonwealth Jubilee and the 40th Anniversary of the Y.C.I. There was a large attendance of present and former members and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The catering was in the able hands of the members of the Young Marrieds' Club.

Our best thanks are due to all those who made the various functions so successful.

We are now looking forward to the celebration of the 48th Anniversary of the consecration of All Saints' Church on 19th August by special services and meetings.

In the meanwhile, let us go forward in the strength of the Lord to carry out His purposes concerning the work of the parish.

With every good wish,

Yours very sincerely,

W. T. PRICE.

NEWS OF THE RECTOR

Dear Friends at All Saints',

When I wrote you a month ago we were in Hereford, where we had our Whitsunday Communion in the Cathedral. Whitsuntide is a great holiday season in England, and, as it comes in springtime, there are excursions of many kinds, whilst a general holiday spirit prevails. Great numbers of people go away for Whitsuntide, very much in the same way as Australians do for Easter. Notwithstanding this, there were about 150 communicants at the eight o'clock Whitsunday Communion. Generally speaking, I don't think people attend church any better in England than they do in Australia; but undoubtedly Whitsunday is observed more here than in my own country. This, of course, is as it should be: for Whitsunday is one of the great Festivals of the Church, bringing the assurance of the Power we all need for daily living, and the knowledge that, although Christianity makes many difficult demands upon us, and sets before us very high ideals, it does offer us the Power to attain them. It is the only religion that does.

Since Whitsuntide we have moved about quite a lot. It is impossible to chronicle all our journeying in the small compass of this letter, so I propose to dwell a little upon one or two of the "highlights" of the past month, the first of which is the Lake District.

C. D. Bell, one of the Lakeland poets, has written:

"The world we bring not with us here; we leave
 Behind its stormy passions and its strife:
 All that compels the noble mind to grieve
 The trifles and the meannesses of life;
 For in this spot where God is all in all,
 The world appears immeasurably small."

That expresses exactly the feeling one has in this lovely district where we spent a very memorable week. We know we have to come back to the world and all its strife (even as those men of old had to descend from the Mount to ordinary, every-day living), but it is a fine experience to know the peace and quietness of the Lakes, where strife seems so remote and where the world does appear "immeasurably small." No words of mine could possibly give any adequate impression of the natural beauty of Lake and fell. Although it was spring and the sun, for most of the time, shone bravely, snow still remains upon Skiddaw and some of the adjacent mountains. I could not help wondering why English people want to dash off to the Continent, when they have such beauty in their own land! I suppose it is, that always and everywhere, "the far-off hills are green!"

Not only is there much great natural beauty, but there is the added interest and attraction of the association with the Lake District of great men of English life and literature—Wordsworth, Southey, Hartley, Coleridge, John Ruskin, Matthew and Thomas Arnold (headmaster of Rugby), and, to come closer to our own day, Sir Hugh Walpole, whose "Rogue Herries" novels were written in and were written about this district. We have seen the house where he wrote these books and also the original manuscripts, which have been bound and are preserved in the Museum at Keswick.

At Friar's Crag, where one has a lovely view of Derwentwater, there is a memorial to John Ruskin, whereon is inscribed two passages from his pen, one of which reads: "I think that the view over Derwentwater from Friar's Crag on a fine day is one of the four supremely beautiful views that I know in Europe."

On Trinity Sunday morning we were in the Church of St. Kentigern, the parish church of Keswick, which dates back to 553 A.D. In the churchyard lies Robert Southey, Poet Laureate in 1813, who lived in the town for nearly forty years. In the church there is a good recumbent statue of him in white marble (which was the work of a self-taught artist), with an epitaph written by Wordsworth. Southey is remembered in this parish probably not so much as a poet, but as a humble, devout parishioner, who moved among the people of the town in a modest, friendly manner.

Keswick stands in a beautiful situation. It is here that great numbers of people come annually for the well-known Keswick Convention, a conference where speakers belonging to different denominations work in harmony, and where, in an atmosphere of fellowship in worship, the spiritual life of many is deepened and great problems of our Faith are discussed, especially as they concern the missionary work of the whole Church.

We left Portinscale (three-quarters of a mile from Keswick) somewhat reluctantly, even though we were on the way to the ancient, historic cities of Chester, Oxford and Winchester, which I must pass over with the barest mention. One day I hope I may have the opportunity of telling you something of them but, meanwhile, just a word about Oxford. It is not possible in three days to see all the Colleges in this fascinating, university city; but we did visit quite a number of them. Whilst one will always remember their architectural beauty, their atmosphere, their fine lawns and gardens, their history, and the number of world-famous men who have passed through them, the thing that delighted me most, as a lover of good church music, was the singing of their choirs. As you probably know, the Colleges have daily services, and we attended Evensong at three of them—Christ Church, New College and Magdalen. The choirs are not large, just ten to twelve boys and about six or seven men, but their beautiful rendering of the service, their chanting of psalms and canticles, and the singing of the anthem, is really excellent. I know our own choir-members would love to hear them and, in common with myself and all who are keen on their important job as choristers, would feel that we can learn much. After all, no one is so good that he cannot be even better!

You are drawing near the time of All Saints' Consecration Festival and the Parish Festival Tea which usually follows, and for which we make preparation some weeks ahead. I know my absence will throw more responsibility upon some of you; but I feel sure you will rally round and co-operate to the utmost with the Acting Rector and Mrs. Price, and so make this Festival the happy and successful time it usually is.

I have not had much parish news lately—only two "Chronicles" have reached me (i.e., February and March), but no doubt others are on the way. I am writing from Canterbury; but that must be "held over" until next month—it could fill a whole letter!

With kindest remembrances and good wishes from us both; and with continued prayer for God's blessing upon All Saints' and its people,

Yours very sincerely,

MATTERS MAINLY PAROCHIAL

Women's Guild.—The Women's Missionary Luncheon was held on Wednesday, 13th June, 1951, and was a successful function. The attendance could have been better, but that was probably accounted for by the bad weather and sickness. The Rev. Canon Oliver Brady gave an inspiring address about his work in New Guinea at St. Aidan's College, and also about the Mount Lamington disaster. We hope all parishioners will assist us in our appeal for funds to help repair the damage. We wish more people could have listened to the Canon's words, as they could not fail to be moved by same. Many thanks to members and friends who assisted with the catering and decorating of the hall. We were pleased to see our ex-members, Mrs. Brady and Mrs. Reilly, with us once again. Our meetings for July are: Thursday, 12th July: Rally in Chapel at 3 p.m. (speaker to be announced later). Thursday, 26th July: Business meeting at 8 p.m.—V. LUCAS, Secretary.

Personal.—We extend our sincerest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Barrett on the "Home Call" of Mr. Barrett's mother. The Acting Rector conducted the service at the chapel and also at Rookwood Cemetery. We also express our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Fullagar and family on the death of their beloved husband and father. Our loved ones who die in the faith of Christ are "with Christ, which is far better."

Sunday School.—July is the month when the Sunday School collects bandages, soap, safety pins and aspirin tablets for C.M.S. Medical Missions. Would you like to help? Gifts will be gratefully received and forwarded to C.M.S. at the end of the month to help on the mission of healing in Northern Australia and in far-off lands, especially Africa, where Australia is responsible for a large territory. "To give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness."—M. REX, Secretary.

Young People's Fellowship.—Among the many attractions provided by the Fellowship will be a "Wool Shed Hop," to be held in the Parish Hall on Saturday, 14th July, at 7.45 p.m. Party games with prizes galore and 50-50 dancing. Come and spend an enjoyable evening. Supper provided. Subscription 2/-. Don't forget "The Wool Shed Hop."—MARY MARSH, Hon. Secretary.

Special Notice.—It has been decided by some of the organisations connected with All Saints' to invite the members of the congregation on the second Sunday evening of each month (and at other times to be announced) to a cup of tea in the Parish Hall after the service. This will give people the opportunity of getting to know each other and of a friendly chat in comfort.

Y.C.I. Celebration Dinner.—To commemorate the Jubilee of the Commonwealth of Australia and the 40th Anniversary of the Y.C.I., a dinner was held in the Parish Hall on Friday evening, 22nd June. The function was an outstanding success. Despite inclement weather, more than sixty men, mostly past and present Y.C.I. members, were present, and there were many happy reunions and frequent exchanges of reminiscences. The members of the Young Marrieds' Club, together with Mesdames E. Gill, L. C. Calver, A. H. Thomas and Miss Calver, arranged and supervised the excellent meal, and the Y.C.I. expresses its sincere thanks to the ladies for their co-operation. Their task was no easy one, and their assistance largely contributed to the enjoyment of all and to the success of the gathering. In addition to the toast of the King, there were several toasts appropriate to the occasion. Mr. D. B. Hunter, M.L.A., proposed that of "Jubilee of Australian Federation," Mr. J. M. Boyle "The Church to Which We Belong," which was responded to by the Acting Rector, Rev. W. T. Price, B.A. The toast of the Y.C.I. was proposed by a past member, Mr. W. W. Weir, and was responded to by the Hon. Secretary, Mr. L. C. Calver, who was Chairman of the gathering. The toast of "The Guests" was proposed by Mr. T. H. H. Bosward, and was responded to by two past members, His Honour, Judge T. S. Holden, and Mr. Barry Fenton. Finally, Mr. Jack Alt proposed the toast of "The Ladies," who had carried out the catering. Mrs. B. T. Sayers, President of the Y.M.C., responded to this toast. During the evening, Mr. Cecil Davey, tenor, delighted all with his singing, and Mr. Rex Dick added variety to the programme with his excellent items on the piano accordion, Mr. Stewart Clarke was the capable accompanist, and to these three gentlemen the Y.C.I. expresses its thanks for their contribution to what was a memorable night in the history of the Y.C.I.—L.C.C.

Parish Council.—Members of the Parish Council are reminded that the next meeting will be held in the Vestry on Monday, 2nd July, commencing at 8 p.m. A full attendance is earnestly requested.—L.C.C.

Choir.—We need more voices for the choir, particularly basses, so if there are any who would be prepared to come regularly to practices on Thursdays and services as required, would they please come up on a practice night and interview the choir-master. The choir is endeavouring to present a series of anthems and solos at the 11 a.m. services as a special effort to enhance further the services of the church.—J. CARROLL.

PERSIA

Another Missionary Crisis

News from Persia is at present causing great concern. The matter of the A.I.O.C. threat is evidently only a phase of the bigger question of the growing pains of nationalism. As in the case of Israel of old, when the judge-prophet, Samuel, had brought the scattered tribes to a sense of unity as a people, and that sense of unity as a nation caused the outcry for a king like other peoples of the world, so it is natural in every land where the impact of the more advanced races of the world has been successful in helping another race to understand its natural rights, that a sense of nationalism would be aroused. But too often, as with Israel, self pride leads to forgetfulness of the hand that has helped to raise them, and a wrong-headed way is chosen to implement the desire. So we see it in working in the same manner in these present days of the world's story. In the missionary's sphere native churches have been founded and in due time have claimed a freedom of administration that has been too long withheld. It was so in Japan, in India and in China. But in India there was a wider nationalist movement that has led to the separation of India from British control. And to-day in Persia there is an outcry against the foreigner. The A.I.O.C., so far as we know, has been a benefactor to Persia in the development of its oil resources, doing what the Persian Government was unable to do. In the same way the educational and medical missions of the Anglican Churches have steadily raised the efficiency of the Persian people, and the Government has put a period to British and American control in these spheres of ministry. Even Christians in Persia are to be found suggesting that the foreign missionary has completed his task and is no longer necessary to the life of the nationals' church, but rather a hindrance. It is natural, but here again, wrong-headed methods of manifesting these national claims lead to grave misunderstandings, and in the case of the A.I.O.C., the breaking of sacred contracts without due regard to the people who for so long have been a definite benefit to the nation in its financial success. Far better results all round could be attained by friendly conference in which national aspirations could be sympathetically considered and met. Let us hope and pray that even yet the British request for a conference may be accepted by the Persian Government.

"A basic principle of the whole idea of jubilee is that God is the owner of the whole sphere of man's earthly existence," said the Moderator-General of the Presbyterian Church of Australia (the Right Rev. J. R. Blanchard).

He was speaking at a Jubilee thanksgiving service in St. Andrew's Church, Perth, which was crowded. The Governor (Sir James Mitchell) was present, having been escorted from Government House by three pipers. The service was conducted by the Moderator of the General Assembly of W.A. (the Right Rev. James McMaster). Almost every Presbyterian minister in the State was present.

"This Jubilee is being celebrated in a world situation which our fathers could never have dreamed possible," Mr. Blanchard said. "It is a situation brought about by the clash of two rival ideologies. The bone of contention between them is the question of ownership. One says that ownership is the right of those who can get and keep it. The other says that ownership is the right of the people.

"Both agree that ownership belongs to man. They disagree on the question: Which man? Between the two, we are being hurried into a state of world-wide civil war. The basic principle of Jubilee, that God is the owner of all things, corrects these rival forces. The most militant and highly organised expression of the theory that ownership is the right of the people is Communism. We know enough about Communism in practice not to want it.

"Force and diplomacy can be finally effective only as they have as their motive an order of society based on God's ownership and vitally charged with the sincere conviction that man is a steward and accountable to God for how he uses his earthly possessions."

The clerk of General Assembly (the Rev. T. Gibson) and Dr. H. R. Pearson submitted a resolution of thanksgiving to Almighty God. Mr. P. J. Barlett read a lesson from Scripture.
