→*PREFACE.*←

—:—

THE SYDNEY DIOCESAN DIRECTORY was published for the first time in 1881. After an interval of five years it makes a second appearance.

It contains more matter than did the former issue. Several additions have been made which, it is hoped, may not be without their interest—the information respecting the various Church organizations in the Diocese of Sydney has been carefully revised, and made as complete as possible.

Several changes will be noticed in the order of arrangement. The Editors have placed the various items of information in separate groups. They trust by so doing they have consulted the convenience of the readers of the “Directory.”

The Editors would express a hope that no lengthy period may elapse before the next “Directory” is issued, but that with the growth of the Church in the Diocese of Sydney the need may be felt of an annual Diocesan Kalendar similar to those which are published year by year in almost every Diocese in England.

Review of the Formation

OF THE

From a single chaplain—the sole representative of the Church of England in the vast territory of Australia, in the year 1787—the Church has grown with the necessities of the country, until now, in the year 1886, she numbers thirteen dioceses, and her Clergy are to be found in every part of the land, even to the remotest recesses to which human enterprise has penetrated and where their ministrations are required.

The Rev. RICHARD JOHNSON, chaplain to the first fleet of convicts which touched the shores of Australia, for six years laboured alone amidst a population chiefly composed of convicts, and which during that time increased from one thousand to five thousand. In 1794, he was joined by the Rev. SAMUEL MARSDEN, whose name will ever be honourably connected with the founding of the Church in these colonies. After twelve years of painful service Mr. JOHNSON returned to England, leaving Mr. MARSDEN alone in charge of the colony for eight years, with its increasing thousands of scattered population. At length, and not before he was sorely needed, the Rev. WILLIAM COWPER arrived as assistant chaplain.

The colony grew and the population increased rapidly ; but even in the year 1833, when the population numbered 61,000, there were only sixteen Clergymen.

The first Archdeacon of Sydney, the Ven. THOMAS HOBBS SCOTT, arrived in 1825. He was succeeded in 1829 by Archdeacon BROUGHTON. At this time Australia, Tasmania and New Zealand were included in the Diocese of Calcutta, though the Bishops of Calcutta never visited these distant regions of their see.

Bishop DANIEL WILSON did however attempt to recognise his responsibility by correspondence, and by sending his Charge. This being considerably divided into two parts was read after Morning and Afternoon Service at St. James' Church, Sydney.

When the Ven. WILLIAM GRANT BROUGHTON arrived, in his forty-second year and forty-two years after the foundation of the colony, there were only eight churches and twelve clergymen in New South Wales. In Tasmania there were four churches and six or eight clergymen. As yet Melbourne and South Australia were uninhabited.

The Archdeacon laboured for five years, visiting by land and sea all the settlements within his wide jurisdiction. Then he returned to the mother country oppressed with the appalling spiritual destitution which he had met with everywhere, and burning to proclaim to a people and a government calling themselves Christian, facts which should startle them out of their selfish negligence to a sense of their duties to thousands of fellow subjects placed by them in such sore necessity.

He succeeded in arousing great interest at home, and liberal grants of money were placed at his disposal by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge and the Society for Propagating the Gospel in Foreign Parts. By means of these funds augmented by private subscriptions the number of the clergy was doubled.

Archdeacon BROUGHTON was consecrated Bishop of Australia February 14, 1836, and from that time the Church made remarkable progress. In the year 1836 there were but nine churches and eight chapels in all Australia. By the year 1842, the number consecrated or in course of erection had increased to forty-five.

New Zealand, which had been nominally included in the Diocese of Australia, received its first Bishop in 1841, in the person of the celebrated SELWYN.

In the following year 1842, the Rev. R. F. NIXON was consecrated first Bishop of Tasmania, and in five years more, evidence was given of the progress and growth of the Church, not only in this colony but also in the colonies of Victoria and South Australia, by the simultaneous creation of three more dioceses. This great measure of sub-division was effected in the year 1847, when the Rev. AUGUSTUS SHORT was consecrated first Bishop of Adelaide,—which See was endowed by the Baroness BURDETT-COUTTES; —the Rev. CHARLES PERRY first Bishop of Melbourne; and the Rev. WILLIAM TYRRELL first Bishop of Newcastle.

The Bishop of Australia who at that time was by Royal Letters Patent created Bishop of Sydney and Metropolitan of Australia and Tasmania—subject however to the Archbishopric of Canterbury—surrendered one-fourth of his income towards the endowment of the other dioceses. The remainder was supplied by the Government.

A large increase in the numbers of the clergy was one of the happy consequences of this increase in the Episcopate. Churches were built, schools primary and collegiate founded, and the Church began to acquire such form and vitality as greatly tended to secure its permanence and stability.

In 1852, Bishop BROUGHTON again visited England on business deeply affecting the Church in Australia, and there on the 20th February, 1853, he died. Before he was called home, he had the happiness of seeing that great portion of the globe to which he had gone in 1829, to preside as Archdeacon over twelve or fourteen excessively worked chaplains, under the spiritual charge of six Bishops and more than two hundred clergymen. "No prelate," says Sir ALFRED STEPHEN, "ever went down to his grave full of years and honours carrying with him more deservedly the respect and veneration of his fellow churchmen and fellow colonists, than Bishop BROUGHTON." Bishop BROUGHTON was succeeded by the late beloved Bishop of Sydney who was consecrated on St. Andrew's Day, 1854, and arrived in the diocese in the following May.

The Church proceeded under his administration with renewed vigour to carry on her work of winning souls for Christ and waging war against the powers of darkness which had seemed to hover over this unfortunate colony by reason of the sad nature of its origin.

Some account of this work is given in the history of the Church Society which appears in another part of this book.

Bishop BARKER's eminent personal qualities and marked success in the discharge of the duties of his office were duly recognised in the minutes of the Synod at its first Session after the announcement of his death was notified. His earthly career was closed at San Remo, in Italy, April 6th 1882. He was succeeded by the present Bishop—Dr. BARRY—whose attainments as a scholar and theologian and whose administrative powers are well known throughout the colony. Bishop BARRY was consecrated at Westminster Abbey, January 1st, 1884, and arrived in the diocese, 5th April, 1884.

The division of dioceses went forward. In 1857, the See of Perth, Western Australia, was founded and the former Archdeacon, the Venerable MATHEW HALE, was consecrated first Bishop. In 1859, the Northern division of the Diocese of Newcastle or the district of Moreton Bay, was constituted a separate colony, and formed into the diocese of Brisbane; the Rev. E. W. TURNELL was appointed first Bishop and was consecrated in Westminster Abbey on the 14th of June, 1859. This diocese did not include the Northern part of the colony called North Queensland.

Then followed the further sub-division of the great Diocese of Sydney, which still comprised nearly the whole of the Colony of New South Wales. The Diocese of Goulburn was formed, and on the 25th of March, 1853, the Rev. MESAC THOMAS was consecrated in Canterbury Cathedral first Bishop. This diocese contained at that time about one-fourth of the population of the Diocese of Sydney, but embraced a much larger proportion of the area of the Colony. The See was endowed mainly by the colonists themselves, one family alone giving £5000.

The vast Diocese of Bathurst was the next to be formed in 1869. An endowment fund of £12,000 was raised, and on the 29th of June, 1869, the Rev. SAMUEL EDWARD MARSDEN,—grandson of the late Rev. SAMUEL MARSDEN—was consecrated first Bishop of Bathurst. He arrived in the Colony, and was installed in All Saints' Cathedral, Bathurst, in May, 1870.

Bishop MARSDEN resigned his see last year, and the vacancy has not as yet been filled.

Grafton and Armidale, which lost its first Bishop, the Right Rev. W. C. SAWYER, D.D., in the first year of his residence, received its second and present Bishop, the Right Rev. JAMES FRANCIS TURNER, D.D., in the year 1868.

The Diocese of Ballaarat was formed out of the Diocese of Melbourne in the year 1875 and the Rev. SAMUEL THORNTON was consecrated first Bishop.

The Diocese of North Queensland which had been growing under such care as the mother See could bestow, was erected into a separate Bishopric in the year 1878, and the Rev. GEORGE HENRY STANTON was consecrated by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Metropolitan of Australia assisting.

The last Bishopric founded in Australia, principally by the liberality of the Hon. JOHN CAMPBELL, M.L.C., of Sydney, was conferred on the Rev. SYDNEY LINTON, who was consecrated Bishop of Riverina, May 1st, 1884.

The Bishopric of Brisbane, rendered vacant by the resignation of Bishop HALE, has been filled by the appointment of the Rev. Dr. WEBBER, who arrived from England at the end of last year.

The Bishopric of Melbourne is at present vacant, owing to the translation of the able and popular Bishop MOORHOUSE to the See of Manchester. His departure from the Australian shores has been a matter of profound regret to all classes.

Truly has the Church in these Colonies, though planted in such sickly soil, thriven and grown into a sturdy tree whose arms stretch out over the length and breadth of the land, extending its grateful shade over every part, freely dispensing its sacred fruits to all sorts and conditions of men.

The Synod of the Diocese and Synodical Action.

In the year 1850, the Bishops of the Province of Australia, (at that time including New Zealand,) having met in Sydney, after Conference agreed upon the expediency of securing Synodical action throughout the Province. The removal of legal and other difficulties supposed at that time to exist, and the concurrence of the Church at home, were among the objects sought to be accomplished by the late Bishop of Sydney when he visited England in the year 1852. His lamented death, and the pressing difficulties of the Church in consequence of the gold discoveries, the delay in appointing his successor, all combined to postpone the movement in favour of a Synod to a more opportune period. Such a period did however at length arrive, and at a Conference in 1858 a scheme for Diocesan and Provincial Synods was agreed upon, and legislative sanction was sought. The bill proposed having been introduced into the Upper House, was favourably received and made satisfactory progress, but was finally withdrawn in consequence of the disapproval by the Bishop and Clergy of the Diocese of Newcastle of certain amendments which had been introduced into it by the Legislative Council. No further action was taken for some time.

Synodical action in the Diocese of Sydney actually began in the year 1866, an Act of Parliament having been previously obtained in the same year "to enable the Members of the United Church of England and Ireland in New South Wales to manage the property of the said Church." The necessity of such an Act, previous to entering upon Synodical action, had been long felt by those who had given the matter careful consideration, and saw what was requisite to place the action of the Church in this matter upon a secure basis.

Preparatory however to making application to the Legislature for this Act, it was determined to hold a Conference of the Bishops, and Clerical and Lay Representatives of the existing Dioceses; which was accordingly convened by the Metropolitan, and held in the Church

Society's House in April of that year. At this Conference certain "Constitutions" were agreed to "for the management and good government of the United Church of England and Ireland in New South Wales." The Legislature was then asked to give its legal sanction to the management of the property of the said Church in accordance with the Constitution.

Very soon after this sanction was obtained, the Bishop of Sydney issued his summons for the assembling of the first Synod of the Diocese, which was held on December 5th; the number of representatives present at its opening being—Clerical, 49; Lay, 97.

The first steps necessary to be taken before proceeding to business were the appointment of proper officers, and the adoption of rules to be observed in the conduct of business. These rules are similar to those which are found requisite in other Representative and Deliberative Assemblies. And as there might be some matter not provided for in them, it was further laid down that, in such cases, "resort is to be had to the Rules, Forms, and Practice of the Legislative Council of New South Wales, so far as they can be applied." Two Secretaries, a Clerical and a Lay, a Chairman of Committees, and an Election Committee, to whom are referred all matters relating to the validity of the choice of Representatives, are to be chosen at the commencement of each Synod.

Subject to such arrangements, the Synod, under the presidency of the Bishop, addressed itself to the business before it; and took into consideration several important questions, with a view to future legislation. A Tribunal for the Administration of Ecclesiastical Discipline, the mode of appointing Clergymen to Parishes, the question of Church Extension through the agency of the Church Society, the condition and future prospects of the Cathedral then approaching completion, a Clergy Widows and Orphans Fund and the Marriage question, being the chief of these. Committees dealing with them were appointed to enquire and report to the Synod at its next Session.

Very valuable results have followed from the labours thus initiated, and from others subsequently undertaken. The provision made for the Widows and Orphans of Clergymen, the Ordinance giving a Constitution to the Cathedral, that for Establishing a Tribunal for Administering Ecclesiastical Discipline, that for regulating the appointment of Clergymen to Parishes and that for providing Pensions to Superannuated Clergymen, are all of great practical importance.

Two other ordinances relating to the special wants of the Diocese have been passed ; one to provide for the mode of electing Bishops to the See of Sydney ; and one to provide for the formation of new parishes. The former is of immense moment. It was passed in 1882, and one agreed to earlier was then repealed. The appointment of a Standing Committee of the Synod was one of its first acts, The functions with which that body is charged are thus laid down.

(1.) To make arrangements for the meeting of the Synod, and to prepare such business as may appear to the Committee necessary to be brought before the Synod. (2.) To make provision for all expenses connected with the meeting of the Synod. (3.) To consider and report on any matter which the Synod may see fit to refer to it. (4.) To be the Representative of the Synod during its adjournment, as a Standing Committee or Council of Advice to the Bishop in any matter wherein he may desire its advice. The Committee is composed of seven Clerical and twelve Lay members besides the President.

The expenses connected with the meetings of the Synod are defrayed by means of an assessment of the Parishes : the amount of which is fixed by the Standing Committee according to a scale based upon a classification of the various Parishes, subject to revision triennially.

With regard to the Ordinances of the Synod, we may observe, that the assent of the President is necessary to the passing of any Ordinance. No Ordinance is valid without that assent, which must also be signified within one month after the Ordinance has been passed by the Clerical and Lay Representatives. There is however a provision in the Constitutions, that in the event of the Bishop's withholding his assent from an Ordinance, it may be "the subject of reference to and determination by any Provincial Synod composed of the Representatives of the Diocesan Synods of the Colony of New South Wales."

This leads us to say a few words upon the Provincial Synod.

The Synod so denominated is thus provided for in the 21st Constitution : "The Representatives of the Diocesan Synods of the United Church of England and Ireland in New South Wales shall meet in Provincial Synod as hereinafter provided. And the title of such Synod shall be "The Provincial Synod of the United Church of England and Ireland within the Colony of New South Wales."

Its powers are :—"To make Ordinances and Determinations upon and in respect of all such matters and things concerning the order and good government of the United Church of England and Ireland in the Colony, and regulation of its affairs, as may be the subject of joint reference to such Provincial Synod by all the Diocesan Synods then existing in the Colony. And all such Ordinances and Determinations shall be binding on the Bishops of the several Dioceses and their successors, and all other members of the Church within the said Colony. And the Provincial Synod may also make Ordinances and Determinations upon and in respect of all such matters and things as may be the subject of reference to such Provincial Synod from any Diocesan Synod in the matter already referred to. But any Ordinance or Determination made by the Provincial Synod in such a case is binding only upon the Diocese which has referred the same to that Synod.

It will thus be seen that the Provincial Synod has no power to legislate for the Church in the Colony, unless there shall first have been a joint reference from all the Diocesan Synods within the Colony concerning a question upon which they are all agreed to unite and invoke its action : or in the case of a particular Diocese, when in a matter purely domestic it resolves to submit its case to that Synod for determination.

The Provincial Synod meets once in three years. Its Constitution was re-modelled in 1884.

Hitherto no Ordinances or Determinations have been passed by the Provincial Synod ; but very important and sometimes able discussions upon matters of general interest to the Church have been held, helping no doubt to influence the opinions of members, and enabling them to see what is required for the welfare of the whole body.

In writing of Synodical Action in this Colony, it is necessary further to make mention of the General Synod of the Dioceses of Australia and Tasmania. This Synod may be said to have for its object the preservation of the Unity of the Church of England in the Australian Colonies, its common action and its union with the Church at home.

After much careful preparation, a Conference was summoned by the Metropolitan, of the Bishops and Representatives of all the Dioceses, to be held in Sydney on the 10th October, 1872. That Conference was held on the day appointed, Divine Service having been first celebrated with Holy Communion in St. Andrew's Cathedral. The Conference met in the Church Society's House at 4 p.m. And being duly constituted, after prayers, the Metropolitan as President, delivered an opening address. The necessary preliminaries of appointing Secretaries and framing Standing Orders were gone through, and the object of the Conference, which was to frame a Constitution for a General Synod, was then brought up for discussion. That having been accomplished, the Conference resolved itself into a Synod, which was duly constituted on the 23rd October. It then proceeded to business and passed the following Determinations :—

- I. A Determination for the Confirmation and Consecration of Bishops and for the election of Primates.
- II. A Determination for the Constitution of an Appellate Tribunal.
- III. A Determination for the Constitution of a Board of Missions of the Church in the Dioceses of Australia and Tasmania.

The Second Session of the General Synod was held in 1876, when a Determination was passed, containing Rules for the Formation of New Dioceses in Australia and Tasmania.

The Third Session was held in 1881, when important ordinances were passed. It was settled that an Ecclesiastical Primacy should be allowed the Bishop of Sydney as holding the Primal See of Australia, out of which the others sprang. A Tribunal was formed and Rules agreed to for the trial of a Bishop.

No determination of the General Synod is binding upon the Church in any Diocese, until it shall have been accepted by the Church in that Diocese.

The following Ordinances have been passed by the Synod of the Diocese of Sydney :—

1. An Ordinance for establishing and regulating the Constitution of the Cathedral Church of St. Andrew.
2. For constituting a Tribunal for the administration of Ecclesiastical Discipline.
3. For regulating the appointment of Clergymen to the Incumbency of Parishes.
4. For accepting a Determination of the General Synod entitled—Rules for the Confirmation and Consecration of Bishops, and for the Election of Primates.
5. For accepting a Determination of the General Synod entitled—Rules for the Constitution of a Board of Missions.

6. To provide for the Superannuation of Clergymen.
7. For accepting and adopting a Determination of the General Synod entitled—Resolutions for the Constitution of an Appellate Tribunal.
8. For the Election of Bishops to the See of Sydney.
9. To continue the above-named Ordinance.
10. To render the said Ordinance perpetual.
11. For regulating the method of accepting Determinations of the General Synod.
12. For regulating the appointment of Clergymen to Incumbencies.
13. To amend the Cathedral Ordinance.
14. To provide Pensions for Clergymen Superannuated.
15. For accepting and adopting a Determination of the General Synod entitled, "Rules for the Formation of New Dioceses."
16. To amend the Superannuation Ordinance of 1876.
17. For the Formation of New Parochial Districts or Parishes in the Diocese of Sydney.
18. For the Administration of the See during a vacancy in the See.
19. For accepting a Constitution for the Provincial Synod.
20. For accepting Determination of General Synod entitled, "General Rules for the Formation of Provinces and the regulation of matter connected therewith."
21. For accepting Determination of General Synod entitled "Rules for the Trial of Bishops for certain offences."

HISTORY OF THE ERECTION OF St. Andrew's Cathedral.

(Shortened from the Directory of 1881.)

(I.) St. Andrew's Cathedral was originally proposed by Governor MACQUARIE, towards the end of his term of office, and the first stone of the foundation was laid on Wednesday, September 1st, 1819. At that time Sydney could not have been said to extend southward of King-street, although isolated buildings had existed for years before along the line now known as George and Parramatta-streets. The whole of its population even in 1828 was only 11,000, and in 1819 could not have exceeded 7,000.

A Cemetery is marked in early maps of Sydney upon the site of the present Town Hall. It is there shown as unenclosed in 1802. In 1804 it was enclosed with a fence, because the "pigs rooted up the graves." Afterwards it was surrounded by a brick wall, some portions of which remain to this day.

In the year 1819 the Cathedral was commenced ; the Cemetery was closed in that year and a new Burial Ground was opened in the "Sand Hills," now known as Devonshire-street, and was "consecrated" by the Senior Chaplain in January, 1820. The latest date which appeared on any tombstone in the "old Cemetery" was 1818.

Under strange circumstances did Governor MACQUARIE proceed to commence a "Cathedral" in a country which had no Bishop, and on a site where there could have been no congregation ; as it was one-third of a mile from the nearest house, and about half-way between Sydney on one side, and the "Village-de-Brickfield" on the other. New South Wales was originally in the Province of Canterbury, but, when the Diocese of Calcutta was formed in 1811, it was made a dependency of that See. In the times of Governor MACQUARIE, five or six Colonial Chaplains were considered sufficient for the whole colony, and it is not to be wondered at, if it was considered "premature" in certain quarters to undertake a "Cathedral" on such a scale under such circumstances.

Governor MACQUARIE was, however, in advance of the age, and the present Cathedral of St. Andrew is a monument to his long-sighted views. He proceeded with his arrangements, and on Wednesday, September 1st, 1819, he himself laid the first stone of the foundation, in about the centre of what is now called George-street—if it was laid "according to ancient custom" at the North-East Angle.

It is not easy to make out what kind of a building was intended; no plan or drawing seems to have been in existence when the work was begun again eighteen years afterwards. It is almost certain that it was designed by Mr. GREENWAY, who had the superintendence of Government Buildings, and it is probable that it resembled the present church of St. James', which was commenced at the same time.

Cathedral matters remained for some years neglected and forgotten. Governor MACQUARIE was recalled in 1822, and died in London in 1824, and Governor BRISBANE succeeded him.

(II.) Archdeacon BROUGHTON arrived in Sydney on September 13th, 1829, during the Governorship of Sir R. DARLING, and once more a move was made towards carrying on the Cathedral.

During the last ten years, whilst the foundations of the Cathedral were lying waste, a great change had come over Sydney. The population had largely increased. The streets between King and Campbell streets were set out and aligned, and the Government Maps of the day shew that buildings were gradually springing up in all directions.

During the next five years Archdeacon BROUGHTON was engaged in much travelling, and nothing was actually accomplished towards building the Cathedral, although the subject was much discussed, and arrangements were made for future attempts. He went to England in 1834, was consecrated Bishop of Australia in February, 1836, and returned to Sydney in June of the same year.

But now a new element was introduced into the question, which does not appear to have been thought of before. Since the days of Governor MACQUARIE a great change had come over Church Architecture, both in England and elsewhere. Classic Buildings were called "Pagan," and (for a while at least) had gone out of fashion,

"Churchwarden's Gothic" was "used up;" every one turned to the works of the old churchbuilders in their perplexity, and Gothic Architecture was revived.

During the Bishop's visit to England in 1834 and 1835, he saw much of this revival, and fully entered into its spirit; and when upon his return to the colony the question of the Cathedral was raised, he proposed that its plan should be reconsidered and its style of architecture altered.

It was then discussed, and finally it was determined to take St. Mary's Church at Oxford, as the model for the Nave and Aisles, and the tower of Magdalen College for the steeple—for which latter purpose the Bishop sent home to Oxford for elaborate drawings of the Tower itself. Upon these bases an entirely new design was prepared, and a beautiful prospective was drawn by the late CONRAD MARTENS and was lithographed in England.

All being thus settled and the arrangements for continuing the work perfected, the old foundation was taken up, and on the 16th day of May, 1837, the stone which had been laid by Governor MACQUARIE 18 years before, as the first stone of the original building, was laid again as the first stone of the present building by the then Governor, Sir RICHARD BOURKE. The Architect in charge of the work at that time was the late Mr. JAMES HUME.

The Cathedral, thus successfully commenced for the second time, progressed rapidly for a while, the foundations were completed, and the upper walls commenced and went on until 1839, when the "great drought" and the general depression of all things caused thereby, prevented the gathering in of promised subscriptions, and the funds fell off. The works however continued to advance slowly and at irregular intervals, until the end of the year 1842, when they ceased altogether, the gates were closed up, and the Cathedral for a second time was deserted.

At this time the position of the work was as follows:—the whole of the foundation was laid, the side walls of the choir aisle were complete, the east wall of the choir was finished except the gable and the pinnacles; the two east windows of the aisles were filled with their tracery; the three walls of the south transept were carried up to the wall plate, and the three walls of the north transept stood of irregular height from ten to thirty feet; the east window, and the six windows in the choir, and those in the transepts were merely openings without tracery ; and there were no side buttresses to the choir, nor were there any pinnacles.

Early in the year 1846 a number of churchmen, encouraged by the evident revival of colonial interests, and considering that the "time was come for the Lord's House to be built," waited upon the Bishop to suggest a plan for raising the necessary funds. A committee was formed to consider the best mode of proceeding, a public meeting was held on Tuesday, April 3rd, 1846, the movement was again fairly on foot, and for the "third and last time," arrangements were made to proceed with the work.

(III.) During the nine or ten years since the Cathedral was last commenced by Governor BOURKE, further changes had come over Sydney. Emigration had brought many new inhabitants ; the population had increased, and had run over the old boundaries. Church matters had also progressed. A new parish had been formed still further south of St. Andrew's. Christ Church had been built and consecrated, and it was even in contemplation to commence St. Paul's, Chippendale. As the completion of the Cathedral seemed indefinitely postponed, a temporary building of wood had been erected in the Burial Ground, which was subsequently enlarged, and served as a Cathedral for 25 years afterwards.

But besides alterations in Sydney, there had been alterations in church architecture. Things had not been asleep since the building was designed ten years ago. At that time it was thought sufficient for the outside of the building to be of stone, while the pillars and arches were to be of brick cemented. The walls were to be plastered, and the roof to be groined in plaster like St. Peter's Church at Cook's River, which was built about this time, and was considered a model of ecclesiastical architecture. For this purpose the walls of the choir of the Cathedral had been left "rough for plaster," as can be seen to this day.

All this was now to be altered, and it was agreed that the whole building should be built of cut stone, both inside and outside, and that the roof should be open timbered and painted. It was also considered that a Cathedral with a tower at the west end was a thing unknown in England, and that the approved arrangement was to place two towers spanning the last bays of the aisles. In York and Canterbury, the two Metropolitan Cathedrals of the Archbishops, this arrangement prevailed, as well as in several other cathedrals, and most of the minsters and abbeys. As Sydney was already the See of a Bishop, who in course of time would probably be a Metropolitan, it seemed the right thing to prepare for the future, and at any rate, to adopt a plan for the building in accord with the traditions and practice of the English Church.

The plan of St. Andrew's Cathedral as commenced in 1837, contained seven bays, three for the choir, as at present existing, one for the transept, and three for the nave. Thus the nave and choir would have been exactly alike, and it was thought that if the nave could be lengthened by three bays it would present a more worthy appearance both inside and outside; the nave being six bays long, and the choir three bays long, but it was not to be.

When Governor MACQUARIE first began the Cathedral, he assigned for its building the whole ground reaching from George to Kent Street, as can be seen in the Government maps to this day. But when SIR RICHARD BOURKE came, he took away nearly one-half of the land and "granted" it to other persons, in defiance of the dictum of Washington Irving, that "none but Great Kings have a right to give away what does not belong to them."

It was soon found that it was impossible to lengthen the Cathedral to the extent desired, and that an addition of two bays would carry the walls of the nave to the extreme western boundary of the ground. But this proposal to lengthen the nave did not meet with universal acceptance, there was difference of opinion in the Cathedral Committee as elsewhere. Those who remember the moving of the old foundation in 1836, were not anxious to see it repeated, and were disposed to adhere to the plan as it was, especially as the nave could not be lengthened more than two bays. The Bishop himself also looked doubtfully on the scheme; for he greatly admired the Magdalen Tower, and was desirous of seeing it reproduced in Sydney.

While matters were remaining in this undecided state, the committee being divided between the double towers and the single tower, the preference being rather in favour of the latter, most opportunely Bishop Selwyn came up from New Zealand, and finding how the matter stood, he took the side of the double towers very strongly, and discussed the question with all parties, and it was at last finally accepted that the Cathedral should be lengthened and the two towers erected. Twenty years afterwards he mentioned the subject at a public meeting held in the building, just before it was consecrated, and expressed his satisfaction at his share in the transaction; for it certainly would have been settled otherwise, if he had not arrived.

All these preliminaries being thus arranged, tenders were accepted for the alterations to the foundations, required by the enlargement of the Cathedral, and in the next month of September, 1846, the work was once more commenced, never again to be wholly stopped until all was complete.

(IV.) It is unnecessary to trace in detail the progress of the building through the successive contracts, taken up as funds came in, from the commencement of the building in 1846 to its completion in 1868. It will be sufficient to mark a few points of special interest during this long course of years.

During the month of September was held a Conference of the Bishops of the "Province of Australasia," and the six Bishops paid a visit to the Cathedral, in company with the committee and a number of subscribers. During their visit it was proposed that some enduring remembrance be set up in the building to record the fact, and as there were six Bishops and six pillars in the nave, it was suggested that these six pillars should be set up as the "Bishops' pillars," and that each of their names should be carved upon a band of stone to be left for that purpose. Several gentlemen formed themselves into a committee, subscriptions were obtained, and the work put in hand; but the bands bearing the names of the Bishops were not carved for sixteen years afterwards, when the final arrangements were made for completion.

In May, 1851, an event occurred which altered the whole aspect of things in Australia. Gold was discovered at Louisa Creek, and as it was said at the time, a small struggling colony was "precipitated into a nation." The effect of the first intelligence was startling. The idea of finding lumps of gold worth hundreds of pounds each, was too much for men working for two pounds per week, and a general rush took place. Everybody seemed impressed with one idea, and were off to "the Diggings."

So many men having left their work in Sydney, caused the wages of those remaining to rise rapidly; every week made fresh demands. Masons who had 6s., and would have been well satisfied with 6s. 6d. a month ago, now had 10s., and during the year there was advance upon advance, until at last they rose to 26s. per day. Builders who had taken contracts at old rates were in despair, and those who had not, would not tender at all, or except at fabulous prices; and in June the Cathedral Committee resolved not to take any further contracts, on account of the "state of the labour market," and the four lantern pillars and the two tower piers, which had already been agreed to, were deferred. Good times and bad times alike seemed unfavourable to the Cathedral.

While the work was going on, several persons had communicated with members of the committee concerning the proposed arrangements for glazing the windows. As it was evident that the whole of the windows would, sooner or later, be provided by private liberality, the Committee agreed upon a "scheme" whereby the various subjects of the windows should be classified in a regular order, instead of leaving it to individual tastes. No one of the intending givers of the windows made any objection to this arrangement, and one by one they were appropriated, and in November, 1861, it was reported that all the windows of the nave, twelve in number, and the north windows in the transept were actually in process of execution in England. In a few months afterwards the windows in the choir were disposed of in a similar manner, and a special subscription was commenced for the east window, to be erected in memory of the late Bishop Broughton.

During the last few months much consultation had been held concerning the nature of the intended floor, and it was finally resolved to send home drawings of the building to obtain plans and estimates for laying the choir in patterns in marble, and the rest of the floor in encaustic tiles.

When the old Burial Ground in George-street was closed in 1820, it was left under no particular guardianship. Persons of all creeds and conditions lay in it, and no person or church had any power to exercise authority. The consequence was that the trees were soon gone, and openings were broken through the walls in various places. The tomb stones disappeared year after year, and the whole place became a public nuisance and a nightly resort of undesirable people. Many complaints were made and many proposals were suggested; but at last, the Government determined to set it apart as a place for "Public Recreation," and it was placed in the hands of Trustees for this purpose. As no funds, however, were provided by the Government to carry out their own intentions, the Trustees were unable to do anything in the matter. It was hoped that the ground would be eventually put in order as intended, in which case it would afford a most ready and suitable approach to the Cathedral.

Notwithstanding the fact that the old Burial ground had been dedicated as a place of "Public Recreation," the Municipal Council persisted in its attempts to obtain it as a site for the Town Hall, and during the year 1867 the matter was brought before Parliament. The opponents of the bill raised the old objections, but they had lost much of their force. The principle had been surrendered. The Burial ground might be respected ; but "Public Recreation" went for what it was worth. The "Divinity that did hedge about God's acre," availed nothing in favour of kites and cricket, and it was clearly only a question of time when it would fall into the hands of the Council.

As a compromise it was finally agreed that sixty feet adjoining the Cathedral ground should be given to the Church, to prevent unseemly proximity to the service, and the rest should be given to the Corporation. The bill, thus amended, was not really passed until the next year 1869, but the Mayor and Council were so confident in their success that they made their arrangements for laying the first stone of the new building early in 1868.

In March of this year (1868) the DUKE of EDINBURGH paid a visit to the building, a vast concourse of people attended in consequence, and in his presence an Organ Recital was given. A few days afterwards he was shot at Clontarf. In the month of May, the Duke, having recovered from the effects of the unfriendly shot, again visited the Cathedral, passing through it on his way to the burial ground, where he laid the first stone of the new Town Hall.

The building being at last complete, it was determined that it should be consecrated on St. Andrew's Day, Nov. 30th, 1868. On Saturday, November 28th, when the doors were shut up for the night, though it was evident that the building was to be consecrated on Monday, it was by no means so clear by what process it was to be got ready, but all parties agreed to be at work before daylight and to do their best. On Monday, November 30th, 1868, before the sun rose the Cathedral was open and all hands were at work, but there were heaps of rubbish to remove, dozens of chairs to be put together, a hundred things to be done, and clouds of dust raised by perpetual sweeping to be laid. By nine o'clock the last basket of rubbish was gone, the last chair was fixed, the numberless odds and ends were disposed of, the floor had been washed, the woodwork "dusted," the cushions, hangings and books all in their places, and when, at last, the organ tuner came to give the finishing touch, all was ready. The service of consecration duly proceeded, and on this occasion was used for the first time the noble communion service, presented to the Cathedral by the late WILLIAM WENTWORTH, ESQ.

When Bishop BROUGHTON obtained the consent of the Government in 1842, for the erection of the temporary wooden cathedral in the old Burial Ground, it was a part of the bargain that it should be removed as soon as the Cathedral was opened, in order that George-street might be widened. That time had now arrived (1870) and the wooden structure was taken away, but in the meantime the Burial Ground had fallen into the hands of the Cathedral and the Corporation, and it was proposed to cut off about forty feet from the depth of the Church ground, and a strip of irregular width along the Burial Ground to increase the width of the street. By the Act of 1869 the Corporation was bound to enclose their land with stone walls and iron pallisading, and it was evidently much to be desired that the Cathedral Grounds should be enclosed in a similar manner, and to facilitate this the Municipal authorities undertook to pay for the walls and railing round the three sides of the Church Grounds. This was carried out during the year 1870.

In August a contract was taken for building the Deanery on the land recently acquired from the old Burial Ground. The Deanery works continued the whole of the year 1872 and were finally completed in December; the garden around it and the Cathedral was also finished at the same time.

A contract was taken for completing the two western towers which work occupied over twelve months and was finally completed in November 1874.

So long as human opinions are liable to change, no Cathedral can ever be said to be absolutely "finished," but it may be affirmed, in a secondary sense, when everything has been effected that was originally proposed, and when nothing of importance has been neglected. This may be fairly asserted of St. Andrew's at the completion of the western towers in 1874. Since that time very little has been done, because, indeed, very little remained to do.

The total cost of the Cathedral was about £60,000.

There remained in 1881 still a debt of £5,000 upon the Cathedral and the Deanery.

The information taken from the Diocesan Directory for 1881 brings the history of the Cathedral down to that year. Since that time the debt on the Cathedral has been reduced by about £2000, and the whole remaining debt is now £3258. The Chapter has received a legacy of £2000, being the amount bequeathed by the late Mrs. Mary Roberts. Several of our wealthy Churchmen have left large sums of money to various institutions in the colony; but Mrs. Roberts' bequest is the only one yet made to the Cathedral. It is hoped that the example thus set will be speedily followed. The Cathedral greatly needs additional endowment, and members of the Church, when disposing of their wealth to pious and charitable uses, should not be unmindful of the claims which it has upon their consideration.

In 1883 a movement was set on foot to raise a memorial of the late Bishop Barker, and it was, after much discussion, resolved that the memorial should be a Chapter House annexed to the Cathedral, to serve also as a Synod Hall. This appeared to many the most appropriate form which a memorial to the late Bishop could assume, since it was during his episcopate that Synodical action had been entered upon in the Diocese of Sydney, and since it is known to have been his long cherished desire that such an important and necessary addition should be made to the Cathedral.

This building, designed by Messrs. Blacket, Brothers, is now approaching completion, and it is hoped that the Hall will be ready for the meeting of the General Synod in October next.

During the time occupied in considering the plans, suggestions were made for increasing the size of the building beyond that originally contemplated, and providing accommodation for the Registry and Church Society, in view of the necessity for removing from the premises now occupied in Phillip-street.

This, of course, involved the committee in a larger expenditure than was at first anticipated, so that, although the money actually subscribed or promised will go far towards the expense of the Chapter House and Hall, which will be regarded as the memorial of the late Bishop, a considerable sum will remain as a debt upon the whole building. Towards paying off this, the Committee can only at present rely upon the rent which will be paid by the Registry and Church Society for the accommodation provided ; but it is hoped that an effort will be made during the year so to increase the funds at the disposal of the Committee, that the liability may be discharged within a reasonable period.

The Bell originally provided for the Cathedral arrived in due course and was placed in the Tower ; but although a remarkably fine one, it was a Clock Bell and entirely unsuited to the purpose for which it was provided ; and the Chapter finding it impossible to make proper provision for ringing it, have accordingly disposed of it, and have temporarily invested the purchase money as the nucleus of a fund for providing a suitable Peal of Bells.

At the enthronement of the present Bishop, his Lordship appealed for funds for a new Reredos, which is greatly needed, the former one having partially fallen down. This appeal resulted in the contribution of a sum of £455, and a design for a new Reredos having been obtained in England from J. L. Pearson, Esq., R.A., the same was approved by the Chapter, and instructions given for proceeding with the work. The new Reredos, which is to be of Alabaster and Caen Stone, may be expected in the course of the present year.

With a view to the improvement of the Cathedral Services a Choir School has been instituted, and funds (to the amount of £600 a year) raised for its maintenance and for the establishment of a paid Choir, through the liberality of some leading Churchmen. In the first instance the donations were promised for three years, but it is hoped that the work done will so approve itself to Churchmen generally that the institution may be regarded as permanent. The School has been successfully carried on during the past twelve months, chiefly through the untiring exertions of the Precentor, the Rev. A. R. Rivers, M.A., who has also been enabled to provide for a daily choral service, and generally for the more effective rendering of the Cathedral services. The number and efficiency of the services have been greatly increased, and many special musical services have been held.

In the Session of 1885 the Synod passed an Ordinance providing for the enlargement of the Cathedral Chapter. In addition to the six clerical and six lay Canons provided for in the Cathedral Ordinance of 1868 the Chapter now includes the two senior Archdeacons and the Precentor.

The Church Society.

The Church Society for the Diocese of Sydney was established in the year 1856. It had its origin in the pressing necessities of the Church in the Diocese. The restriction of State aid to the older parishes and the gradual withdrawal of the measure of assistance formerly afforded by the great Church Missionary Societies of the Mother Country, together with the constantly increasing population consequent upon the gold discoveries, rendered it incumbent on the members of the Church, by union and combined effort, to make provision for sustaining and extending the ministrations of the Church throughout the then vast Diocese of Sydney, which comprised, besides the present Diocese, the extensive Dioceses of Goulburn and Bathurst. In the absence of any Synod or other representative body of the Church, the Bishop of Sydney, after consulting with the Rev. Canon Allwood, for many years subsequently Hon. Secretary of the Society, and other clerical and lay members of the Church, took steps to form a Society which should have for its objects :—

1. The support of Clergymen, Missionaries to the Aborigines, and Catechists.
2. The Endowment of Churches.
3. The Erection of Churches and Parsonage Houses.
4. The Circulation of the Holy Scriptures, the Book of Common Prayer, and other religious and useful publications.

Care was taken that, if, on the establishment of a Synod it should be deemed advisable to provide for the maintenance of Church ministrations by some other plan, no difficulty should arise from the existence of the Society ; it being expressly provided by the 31st Rule that on the establishment of a Diocesan Synod "The organisation shall merge in the Synod." The Society commended itself very generally to the members of the Church. In the first report for the year 1856, it is stated that consequent upon the work of the Society the number of the clergy increased from forty-eight to seventy, with six catechists, whilst grants were made in aid of the erection of church buildings, for the purchase of glebes, and for defraying the expenses of clergymen from England. The receipts amounted, on the 31st December, 1856, to £4,398 4s. 7d. At the same date in the year 1885, for the greatly reduced Diocese of Sydney to £343,711 4s. 5d. The affairs of the Society were entrusted to the management of a Committee, consisting of a Patron, a President, the Bishop of the Diocese, twelve Laymen chosen by the subscribers at the annual meeting, and Representative Members of Parochial and District associations. This organisation continued until the meeting of the first Diocesan Synod, which, in its second session, adopted an amended code of rules and regulations for the Society, "bringing it into harmonising action with the Synod, and defining more correctly the important objects which the Church Society is intended to promote."

In the sixth year of its establishment the Bishop of Sydney was enabled to say, "In June, 1856, the Church Society was formed; in five years it raised and expended £44,000; it maintains annually thirty-one additional clergymen, and has been the means, under God, of increasing the number of the clergy from forty-eight to ninety-two; three catechists are also maintained; the Society has paid for the passage of many clergymen and catechists, and assisted in the erection of fifty-two churches and ten parsonage houses, it has also purchased glebes for the endowment of two parishes."

In the year 1860, a proposal was made to the Committee by Mr. Justice Wise that a special fund should be raised for the endowment of parishes. The history and present position of this fund will be found in another place.

In the year 1863, the separation of the Diocese of Goulburn from the Diocese of Sydney enabled the Committee of the Society to extend their operations in the Western District. In the tenth annual report we find the Bishop of Sydney thus adverting to the origin and work of the Society :—"In the year 1856, I was joined by the late much lamented Mr. Kemp and Mr. Allwood in forming the Church Society, and no sooner was it established than its success was evident. It struck root in the mind of the Church of England, and at the present time the Bishops and Clergy are doubled in number; there are two Bishops and one hundred Clergymen in what was then the Diocese of Sydney, and more than one hundred places of worship in connection with the Church have been opened in ten years. In the year 1866, the first Synod of the Diocese having met adopted the following resolution :—'That the Synod recognising the great benefits that have been conferred on the Diocese through the means of the Church Society, adopts it as its agent for the promotion of the great objects for which it was instituted.' In the following year amended rules and regulations were adopted ; the fourth object was omitted as belonging properly to the Diocesan Book Society. The Committee of Management was appointed ; twelve members of Synod, annually chosen, replacing the twelve members heretofore elected by the general body of subscribers. In the year 1869, the Diocese of Bathurst was formed. The Society however continued to render aid to the newly formed Diocese until the close of the year 1873. In the year 1871, 'In order to further the objects of the Society and extend its usefulness, a Sub-Committee was appointed called the 'Auxiliaries Committee,' consisting of four members, two clergymen and two laymen, elected annually from the members of the General Committee at the first meeting after the session of Synod in each year. In the year 1872, the Synod passed a resolution to the following effect :—' That this Synod recommends all the licensed Clergymen and Catechists, and all the Churchwardens in the Diocese to devote the whole of their collections on the first Sunday in Advent, and on the first Sunday after Easter, to the General Fund of the Church Society, and that the President be requested to communicate this resolution accordingly.' This resolution was attended with very beneficial results. The average collections in churches rose from less than £200 to upwards of a £1000. Subsequently, Trinity Sunday was substituted for the first Sunday after Easter, and the recommendation is now so generally complied with that in 1885, no single parish failed to give at least one collection in aid of the Society. The total receipts during that year from this source, together with the collections at Confirmation Services, which it has been customary to devote to the Society, reached £1935 9s. 3d. In the year 1872, assistance was first given to the northern portion of Queensland ; this assistance was continued until the establishment of the Diocese of North Queensland in the year 1878, when a final grant was made."

In the year 1882, by order of Synod, the objects of the Society were extended, to enable it "to assist poor parishes or ecclesiastical districts in discharging pecuniary obligations imposed upon them or the clergymen licensed to any such parish or district by Ordinance or Resolution of Synod."

The following extract from a speech delivered at the Thirtieth Annual Meeting by His Excellency LORD CARRINGTON, states very plainly the main objects and principles of the Society :—" The Church Society has two main objects—1. Church Extension and Sustentation, by grants in aid of stipends, and (secondarily) in aid of building churches, schools, and parsonages, both in parishes newly formed and in those in which the population is permanently poor. The former grants are gradually diminished as the parishes become self-supporting ; the latter are permanently maintained. Without this branch of the Society's work it would be impossible to occupy new ground and form new parochial districts (about ten have been formed in the last two years) and to maintain the Church in the poorer city and country districts. The fund for these purposes embracing, also, some others of less importance, is the 'free fund,' which amounts now to about £6000 a year, raised almost entirely by annual collections and subscriptions. 2. The formation of a central stipend fund, out of which, rather than directly from the parishes, the stipends of the clergy should be paid. In all cases in which the stipend is aided by the Society, and in others, wherever the parishes please, the contribution for the parish is paid to the Society, and by it (augmented or unaugmented) to the clergy, so as to secure regularity, and diminish the sense of dependence. This fund, called the 'Appropriated Fund,' amounts to about £17,000 a year. The great difficulty here is not so much the poverty of the clergy (for, though they are poor, the average income is probably higher than in England), but the want of independence under a purely voluntary system, which, I think, prevents many, especially men of station and means, from entering, as at home, on the work of the ministry. This side of the Society's operation wants emphasising, for, important as it is, its usefulness is far less obvious than that of the other."

The sum total collected through the Society from its commencement to the close of last year amounted to £343,711 4s. 5d. Of this sum £225,712 15s. 5d. was received for stipend, while, during the same period, the stipends of Clergymen and Catechists have been augmented to the extent of £66,586 7s. 9d. Churches and parsonages have been assisted by grants of £18,485 3s. 1d. In bringing clergymen to the colony and assisting them to reach their destination, £5,717 17s. 10d. has been expended, and by grants in many other directions has the Society promoted the work of the Church in the Diocese.

St. Paul's College.

WITHIN THE UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY.

St. Paul's is one of three Colleges affiliated to the University of Sydney, and standing upon a portion of the extensive grant of land conveyed by the Crown to the University. The College is incorporated by Act of Parliament, and is governed by a Council consisting of a Warden and eighteen Fellows. The Warden and six of the Fellows must be Clergymen in Priests' Orders of the Church of England; the remaining twelve Fellows must be Laymen. The Bishop of Sydney is Visitor of the College. Students in the College must be undergraduates attending lectures in the University.

The buildings are large and handsome, though as yet a portion only of the original design has been completed. One-half of the cost of erection has been defrayed by private subscriptions, and the other half by public funds. In consequence of the increasing number of undergraduates resident in the College, it has lately become necessary to appropriate for their use (as originally intended) the wing of the College hitherto occupied as a residence by the Warden, and a detached "Warden's Lodge," well worthy of the College, has accordingly been erected. The erection of this new building marks an epoch in the history of the College. The movement was inaugurated by the Visitor in 1884, and the corner stone was laid by His Excellency Lord Carrington on December 30th, 1885.

There are seven scholarships attached to the College. Five of these are for students who intend to take Holy Orders; the remaining two are open to all students alike. The scholarships are as follows:—

1. The "Edward-Aspinall:" value £25; for a student of the second year.

2. The "Kemp : " value £20 ; for a student of the first year.
- 3 and 4. The " Fellows ; " two, value £25 per annum each, and tenable for three years ; for students who intend to take Holy Orders.

(Vacant.)

Principal :

THE REV. THOMAS ERNEST HILL, M.A.,

Formerly Scholar of Christ's College, Cambridge ; Tutor and Chaplain of Cavendish College, Cambridge ; and Lecturer and Tutor of Lichfield Theological College.

List of Former Principals.

Reverend W. M. Cowper, M.A., Magdalen Hall, Oxford ;

March—September, 1856.

Reverend W. Hodgson, M.A., Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge ; 1856—1867.

Reverend R. L. King, B.A., St. John's College, Cambridge ; 1867—1878.

The College was founded in March, 1856, under the will of the late Thomas Moore, Esq., of Liverpool, New South Wales, and has since that time been the means of educating upwards of one hundred and fifty candidates for the ministry of the Church of England, nearly all of whom are still working in the Australian colonies.

The buildings comprise a residence for the Principal (built by the late Mr. Moore), and a newer portion for the Students. This was erected during the years 1856—1867, and now forms three sides of a quadrangle. It includes a Chapel ("Broughton Chapel," so called after the late Bishop Broughton, with whom the idea of founding the College originated), a Lecture Room or Library, Dining hall, and thirteen rooms for Students, besides the kitchen and the servants' apartments. The foundation stone of the Chapel was laid by the late Bishop of Sydney, January 14th, 1857.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR ADMISSION.

1. Every candidate for admission must answer fully a paper of questions which will be sent him on application to the Principal, unless he is provided with a certificate from the Bishop of the Diocese in which he desires hereafter to labour, stating his willingness to receive him as a candidate for Holy Orders.

2. Non-Graduates will be required to pass a preliminary examination in the following subjects. (a) A general knowledge of the Bible, to which the greatest importance will be attached, (b) the Greek of St. Matthew's Gospel, with grammatical questions on the Greek, (c) a general knowledge of English History, (d) an elementary knowledge of Latin, which will only be excused under very special circumstances. The examination will be held in November, and also about three weeks before Trinity Sunday in each year, unless the Principal shall think fit to postpone it till a later period.

3. As there may be, from time to time, some who wish to enter the College and are unable to pass the Entrance Examination, arrangements have been made by which they can reside in the College and receive instruction suitable to them. But their time of residence as Students will date from their passing the Entrance Examination.

PERIOD OF RESIDENCE.

Graduates of the Universities reside for one year : but if they do not require the College Certificate, they are admitted to study for shorter periods.

Non-Graduates complete their ordinary course of training in two years, and reside in the College. Married students may live with their families in the town. The year is divided into two Terms, of about seventeen weeks each : Lent Term, being about February 25th ; Michaelmas Term, beginning about August 20th.

COURSE OF STUDY.

1. The Holy Scriptures ; the Old Testament in English, and the New Testament in Greek.
2. The Prayer Book ; with an examination of Primitive and Mediæval Liturgies.
3. The Doctrines of the Church of England ; especially as set forth in her Creeds, Articles, and Standard Divines.
4. Church History ; General Church History (the first four Centuries,) English Church History.
5. Evidences, &c.
6. Elementary instruction in Latin and Hebrew.
7. Homiletics and Pastoral Theology.

PRACTICAL TRAINING.

1. Public Reading and Speaking are practised, under the instruction of the Principal.
2. Sermons or Theological Essays are frequently written.
3. Each Student, before the end of his course, has practice in parochial work, and gives assistance in Mission Services, Sunday Schools, &c.

PAYMENTS.

All fees must be paid during the first week of each Term to the Secretary to the Trustees of Moore College at the Sydney Diocesan Registry, 169, Phillip Street.

Per Term—For Non-Graduates £50

Per Term—For Graduates ... £40

For Non-resident married Students, including dinner in Hall, £30.

The Students are provided with board, furniture, and bedding ; but provide for their washing and other personal expenses.

SCHOLARSHIPS, BURSARIES, PRIZES, &c.

Scholarships and Bursaries are awarded according to the result of the Entrance Examination ; but in the case of the 'Barker' Scholarship preference is given to Candidates for Orders in the Diocese of Sydney. Elected Candidates are expected to complete the College course—Non-Graduates to reside for two years and Graduates for one year.

The 'Barker' Scholarship ... .. £50

The 'Abbott' Memorial Scholarship... £50

The 'Ex-Students' Bursary ... .. £50

A Special Exhibition ... .. £50

The Bishop will be prepared to recommend to the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge a Student, being a native of the Colony, for a Studentship, value £30.

The King's School.

PARRAMATTA.

The founding of the King's School was the sole result of the efforts made by Archdeacon BROUGHTON and others extending as far back as 1830, to establish a scheme of higher class education for boys and men approximating to the system of Public Schools and Colleges at Home. The Home Government authorised the institution of two Public Schools; one at Parramatta for boarders and day scholars, the other in Sydney for day scholars only. The question of founding a College to complete the scheme was postponed until the circumstances of the colony should require it. Only the King's College School, however, was founded, and opened in 1832, under the headmastership of the Rev. R. FORREST. It soon achieved great success, and has educated many of the leading men of the colony. Subsequently it passed under various hands and through many vicissitudes. It was closed for a time, from 1865 to 1869, and re-opened under the able and successful management of the Rev. G. F. MACARTHUR, who resigned his office in 1885. During the Session of the Diocesan Synod of 1885 the school was brought under the government of a Council of five clergymen and five laymen, appointed by the Synod, the Most Rev. the Bishop of Sydney being ex officio President.

Council :

The Most Reverend the Bishop of Sydney.

Head Master—The Rev. Arthur St. John Gray, M.A., Oxford, late Demy of Magdalen College, 1st Class Honours Moderations, 1881; 2nd Class Final School Modern History, 1883.

The school provides a classical, mathematical and general education of the highest order on moderate terms, with sound religious teaching in accordance with the Church of England, unless otherwise directed by the parents. There are classical and modern sides, with a lower school for junior boys; and every facility for the preparation of youths for a professional or a mercantile career.

Scholarships and Exhibitions.—There are (I.) Two “Broughton and Forrest Exhibitions,” worth £120 a year each, tenable for four years, on condition of going to Oxford or Cambridge. (II.) Two “Burton Exhibitions,” each of the annual value of £30, for sons of the clergy proceeding to St. Paul’s College with a view to Holy Orders. (III.) The Broughton Scholarship of £25, open to all boys who have been six months in the school, and tenable while they remain there.

The school premises are situated on between six or seven acres of land, affording abundance of room for sports and exercise in their own grounds. The school has hitherto been remarkable for freedom from sickness. A school hospital affords complete isolation, and the best of nursing care during the prevalence of any epidemic.

Boarding and Fees.—The Tuition Fees for day boys and boarders alike is £4 4s. per quarter. Boarding, 50 guineas per annum, besides laundry charges and drilling fee. For details on this subject, and also as to school terms and holidays, apply to Headmaster.

E. S. Ebsworth, Esq., Bronte, Waverley.

St. Catherine's School, for the Daughters of the Clergy, was founded by the late Mrs. Barker in the year 1856. The idea of founding such an institution was suggested by observing in the course of a lengthened tour through the Diocese, which at that time included the greater part of the colony, the extreme difficulty felt by many of the clergy of providing suitable education for their daughters.

In the year 1859, the Institution was removed to the new building, St. Catherine's, Waverley. It stands upon three and a-half acres of land, granted by the Government. The situation is healthy, and the house, which is very convenient, accommodates sixteen pupils. The fees per annum were £25.

In the year 1884, the constitution of the school was considerably modified, under the authority of the Primate, by the formation of a Council as a governing body. The Primate is now President and Chairman of the Council. The Bishops of the Province of Sydney are Vice-Presidents, and twelve other members of Council have been appointed by the Primate.

In September, 1884, Miss Law retired from the position of Principal, which she had held for the last twenty-five years, and was succeeded by Miss Helen P. Phillips, late Senior Assistant Mistress of the Sheffield High School for Girls, England.

The Council being anxious to extend more widely the advantages of the Institution as a place of high education upon a sound religious basis, and finding that the foundation, even with the aid of the subscriptions at present received, was insufficient to enable them to do this, resolved to admit a number of non-foundations, not exceeding twenty, to be nominated by members of the Council, at the usual terms of High Class Schools in Sydney. In order to carry out this resolution, they commenced a considerable extension of the building, which was completed in February last. The extension has been carried out at a cost of about £2,500. The additional accommodation provides large dining hall, two class rooms, four dormitories, three bath rooms, kitchen, pantries, store room, laundry, &c. Two large tennis courts have also been provided on the school grounds.

Scholarships and Prizes.

A scholarship of £25 per annum, tenable for two years, has been established, open to daughters of clergymen residing within the Diocese of Sydney. This scholarship is supported by private subscriptions.

Special Prizes.

To the candidate who passes highest in the Sydney University Examination two prizes are offered, one by the Principal, value £3 ; one by Mrs. Fisher, value one guinea.

For the best needlework a prize is offered by Mrs. Barry, value two guineas.

For the best painting in oils, a prize is offered by the Honourable Edward Knox, value two guineas.

Legacies.

During the years 1885 and 1886 the following Legacies have been left to the School, viz. :—

|                                         |       |
|-----------------------------------------|-------|
| By the late Miss Mary Ann Cummings ...  | £500. |
| "      "      Mrs. Mary Roberts ...     | £300. |
| "      "      Mr. John Boucher ...      | £200. |
| "      "      Mrs. Elizabeth Bowman ... | £50.  |

The Aim of the School

Is to provide a thorough high-class education on a sound religious basis, according to the principles of the Church of England.

The School Course

Includes Religious Instruction, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, and Mathematics, English Grammar, Composition, and Literature, History, Geography, French, German, Latin, Music, Drawing, Painting, Class Singing, Harmony, the Elements of Physical Science, Gymnastics, and needlework.

The School Year.

Is divided into three terms, each of about thirteen weeks. One term's notice required previous to the removal of a pupil, or half-term's fees.

Pupils can remain at the school during the shorter vacations only by special permission of the Principal. There will be in such cases an extra payment of £2 2s. per week.

Terms per Annum for Non-Foundations.

Board and Education, including thorough English, French, German, Latin, Class Singing, Arithmetic, and Mathematics, the Elements of Physical Science, and needlework. Other subjects are extra.

|                                      |     |     |             |

| Terms per annum for Foundationers... | 25  | "   |             |

The Council provide all extra books required in reading for the Sydney University Examinations, and also pay half the necessary fees for these examinations.

The Australasian Board of Missions.

When the General Synod of the Dioceses of Australia and Tasmania was constituted in 1872 it was decided that among the matters concerning which it should have power to make determinations should be "the promoting of Home and Foreign Missions in the Church." It was held that so important a work should not be left to the zeal of individuals, but that the Church should recognize it, and should, so far as practicable, direct and sanction it through recognized authorities. An Ordinance was passed by which "The Bishops forming the House of Bishops in the General Synod" were constituted "The Board of Missions of the Church in the Dioceses of Australia and Tasmania." The functions of the Board are declared to be "To promote the Mission work of the Church among the Aborigines in Australia and in the Islands adjacent, to assist in carrying out the Missions established by the Church of England through her Missionary Societies, to co-operate in supporting the Melanesian Mission and other Missions to the Heathen especially in Australia, to seek out, train, control and support Missionaries, and to promote unity of effort in Missionary work. An Executive Council was elected by the General Synod and each Diocese was invited to form a "Diocesan Corresponding Committee under the presidency of its Bishop. Various causes have contributed to prevent any great results being achieved; it is possible that changes may be made in the constitution not of the Board itself, but of the Executive Council, which will tend to the fuller and more efficient development of Missionary work.

The Sydney Diocesan Corresponding Committee has always endeavoured to fulfil the intentions of the Board. It founded and still carries on the Church of England Mission to the Chinese in Sydney, and there is good reason for saying that its work has not been in vain. The Chinese clergyman Rev. George Soo Hoo Ten has gathered round him a band of some 25 Christian Chinese, most of whom he prepared for baptism and his influence for good over many non-Christian Chinese is very great. Through his efforts, warmly seconded by the Chinese, a neat church has been erected at Botany in which service is held every Sunday. It was opened by the Primate last year, and in May last he celebrated Holy Communion in it for the first time. The night schools, village services, &c., carried on by Mr. Soo Hoo Ten are of a most interesting character and it is hoped that the work may ere long develop further. For some years the Committee aided the Warangesda Mission, which was under the control of the Bishop of Goulburn. It has now passed into the hands of the Aborigines Protection Association, but the committee grant £50 per annum to be placed at the disposal of the Lord Bishop of Riverina towards the stipend of the Superintendent, who is a clergyman of the Church of England.

SYDNEY DIOCESAN CORRESPONDING COMMITTEE.

President—The Lord Bishop of Sydney.

Hon. Treasurer—Mr. H. E. A. Allan, Macquarie Place, Sydney.

Hon. Secretary—Rev. A. Yarnold, Christ Church Parsonage, St. Leonards.

Subscriptions and contributions, either to the Chinese Mission or in aid of any Mission connected with the Church of England, may be sent to the Treasurer or Secretary.

Church of England Mission to Seamen.

The Church of England Mission to Seamen was commenced as a voluntary work some years ago by Mr. J. S. Shearston, acting under the authority of a license from the Bishop of Sydney. In 1881, Mr. Shearston became a paid Missionary, devoting his whole time to the sailors of Her Majesty's ships and those of the merchant service. His work has hitherto been useful to a very remarkable degree.

The Mission is entirely supported by voluntary contributions.

Sunday School Institute.

The S. S. Institute for the Diocese of Sydney is formed, as far as possible, on the lines of the Home Society, and owes its start to the present Dean of Bathurst (while resident in the Sydney Diocese) and to a former vice-warden of St. Paul's College, the Rev. E. G. Hodgson, M.A. It has been in existence during a period of about six years.

It aims at the extension and improvement of Church of England Sunday Schools by the following means:—

1. By establishing a centre of communication, through which information as to the best methods of organising and conducting Church of England Sunday Schools may be given and received; and by affiliating the same to the Church of England Sunday School Institute in England.

2. By initiating the formation in each Rural Deanery of Associations of Sunday Schools to promote the holding, at convenient centres, of Special Services for Teachers, for Scholars, and of Meetings for Conference, and for the delivery of Addresses on Sunday School work, and for the giving of Training Lessons and Model Lessons.

3. By facilitating the dissemination throughout the Diocese of the publications of the Parent Institute, and of such other publications as may be considered useful in Sunday School work.

4. By securing the services of experienced visitors to attend meetings of Sunday School Teachers for the purpose of giving Addresses, Training Lessons, and Model Lessons, and otherwise helping Sunday Schools.

5. By furthering the work of Sunday Schools in such other ways as may be practicable.

In proof that the efforts of the Institute have not been without result, the following facts may be stated :—Conferences have been held from time to time ; many Model Lessons have been given ; yearly Examinations of Scholars are held in a few schools ; in 1885 some 24 Teachers were examined in Bible and Prayer-book subjects. At the Annual Meeting in 1886. more than 250 teachers took part in the proceedings.

The members of the Institute consist of :—

1. Subscribers of not less than 5s. a year, such subscribers to be members of the Church of England.

2. Clergymen, and Superintendents, and Teachers, and other Sunday School officers, subscribing not less than half-a-crown a year.

3. One Representative, Clerical or Lay, of each School which subscribes not less than ten shillings a year. A Sunday School may be affiliated to the Institute on payment of not less than ten shillings a year.

The privileges of Members are :—

1. The right of voting at all General Meetings.
2. A discount of 15 per cent. on the publications supplied by the Institute as per its catalogue.

Church of England Temperance Society.

Patron.

Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen.

Presidents.

The Archbishops of Canterbury and York.

The Society has a Branch in New South Wales, which is at present managed by a Central Committee. The names of the Patron, Vice-Presidents, and Officers appear in an advertisement elsewhere.

The Basis of the Society is Union and Co-operation, on perfectly equal terms, between those who use, and those who abstain from, alcoholic drinks, in endeavouring to promote its objects.

The Objects of the Society are :—

- I. The Promotion of Temperance.
- II. The Reformation of the Intemperate.
- III. The Removal of the causes which lead to Intemperance.

There are in connection with the N.S.W. Branch at least 30 Parochial Branches, numbering about 3000 Members in all, and in many of them Monthly Meetings are held for both Juveniles and Adults, partly for the purpose of receiving new Members, and partly for the purpose of Recreation by Music, Recitations, &c.

Under the auspices, and the direction of the Central Committee, The Church Home is doing good work, and the following is a short history of what it has accomplished :—

The Church Home was founded by the Church of England Temperance Society in January, 1885. The necessity of active rescue work was felt by the Committee to be most pressing, and the call to go out and seek the wandering and the fallen came to them more and more loudly. But such work seemed impossible unless a place of refuge could be provided for those who were influenced, where they could be separated from evil associates, and brought under the power of that which is good. Under this conviction the Committee determined to establish such a Home. A house of very moderate dimensions was taken in Forbes Street, Darlinghurst, where the work was carried on for twelve months. The success which attended this effort was so great that the Committee determined to extend their operations, and to this end secured the present large and convenient premises. Up to the present date 120 women have been received into the Home, 32 have left for situations, and 25 have gone to friends. There are at present 29 inmates. The object of the Home is to save the wanderer from sin and misery, and to win her back to God and righteousness. The door is open to any who have fallen from sobriety or chastity, and will conform to the rules of the Institution. The Home is supported by the free contributions of friends, and by work done by the inmates. It is the wish and intention of the Committee to establish a refuge, to which women can in the first instance be taken, as soon as the funds will permit. The management of the Home is vested in an Executive Committee appointed by the Church of England Temperance Society. Mrs. High is the matron, and Mrs. Preston is sub-matron.

Religious Instruction in Public Schools.

For a few years after the passing of the Public Schools' Act of 1866, the work of Special Religious Instruction, as permitted by the Act, was carried on by only a limited number of the Clergy. The importance of the work became, in time, more fully realized. Attention was frequently called to it by the late Bishop of Sydney in his addresses to the Synod, and at length, on 5th December, 1878, the following resolution was carried :—

“That in the opinion of this Synod the great importance of imparting Religious Instruction to the young in Public Schools now spread so widely throughout the Diocese, renders it necessary that some more effectual steps should be taken for imparting such instruction at the times sanctioned by the Public Schools’ Act.”

A committee was formed to consider and report upon the best mode of giving effect to it, and at the next Session a very comprehensive report was submitted, containing a series of important recommendations. These were adopted by the Synod, and a Committee was formed to carry them into effect. It has been in existence ever since, and has now completed the seventh year of its labours.

The work has steadily progressed in extent, and in efficiency. There are now seven salaried Teachers employed, and an expenditure of nearly £1000 p. a. is incurred. The Committee were able to report to Synod in 1885 as follows :—

“There are now 317 Schools in the Diocese. Ninety-eight of these have less than 20 Church of England children on the roll. Special Religious instruction is given in 160 out of the remaining 219. Seventy-two of the Clergy take part in this work, and report that they give about 131 lessons every week. The salaried Teachers instruct 159 classes weekly, which comprise 7,500 children in ordinary attendance.”

A fairly successful effort has been made to stimulate the interest of both teachers and children by yearly examination and the awarding of prizes. In December 1885, a very large meeting of children and their friends, was held in the hall of the Young Men’s Christian Association, the Primate presiding, when 308 prizes were distributed, and also 330 certificates of merit.

The committee have many gratifying assurances that their work is appreciated by the Public School teachers, the parents and the children. It is, in some respects, difficult and complicated ; but they claim to have demonstrated that it is practicable. The importance of it they cannot over-estimate.

On these accounts it is the more surprising that members of the Church have not yet given it that pecuniary support which it requires, and merits. The Committee want an annual income of more than £1500, and they earnestly appeal to their fellow churchmen to supply it.

Lay Readers' Association.

[Instituted, 1876.]

Object.—To assist the Clergy in establishing and maintaining the ordinances of religion in their several parishes by means of Licensed Readers. All work undertaken by the Association is under the direction of the Incumbent of the parish concerned.

Membership.—Candidates for membership must be regular communicants, of not less than twenty-one years of age, and are required to give the names of two of the Clergy of the Diocese as referees. Subject to the approval of the Committee and a favorable report from the Examiner (appointed by the Bishop), they are then admitted as probationers for six months; at the expiration of this time they are again examined, and may receive from the Bishop his formal License.

Subscribers to the Association, of five shillings per annum for clergymen, ten shillings per annum for laymen, are Honorary Members, and may vote at general meetings.

Clergymen receiving help from the Association must qualify as honorary members, and hold themselves liable for the travelling expenses of the Readers.

Further information may be obtained on application to

This Fund was originated in the year 1860, at the suggestion of the late Mr. Justice Wise and other gentlemen with a view to provide endowments in land for the Church in the Diocese of Sydney.

For some years, owing principally to the various other claims upon the liberality of those who are interested in the progress of the Church, nothing was done towards the accomplishment of this design, but the Fund was managed by a Provisional Committee of the Church Society, and the following rules and regulations which were adopted by the General Committee of the Church Society will indicate the uses to which the fund was applied.

1.—That the present Fund together with all additions hereafter made thereto by interest or further subscriptions shall, except as after provided, be accumulated by means of investment in Government securities of the Australian colonies or New Zealand.

2.—That it shall be competent for the Committee to lend portions of the fund, no loan however to exceed the sum of * two hundred pounds, or to be for a period exceeding † two years, in aid of any church work in the diocese; provided that by such loans the fund shall sustain no loss in the shape of costs or diminished interest and that substantial security shall in every case be obtained for the repayment of the loan and interest.

3.—That all applications for loans under the last rule shall be made in writing and addressed to the Chairman of the Endowment Fund Committee stating the amount of loan desired, the purpose to which it is applied, the time for which the loan is required, and the security proposed to be given for the repayment of the loan and interest.

4.—That a meeting of the Committee shall be summoned by the Chairman within a month after the receipt of any application for a loan, to take the same into consideration ; and the Committee at such meeting, three members being a Quorum, shall determine upon the matter of the application.

5.—That the Committee shall by such means as they may deem advisable endeavour to increase the number of subscribers to the fund and upon the number of subscribers amounting to one hundred shall report the same to the General Committee of the Church Society.

6.—That the Committee shall present to the General Committee of the Church Society once in every six months a statement of the amount of the fund, the mode in which it is invested, and the number of subscribers, together with such other particulars in relation thereto as it may be deemed necessary or desirable to communicate.

In the year 1884, the Provisional Committee at that time consisting of the Very Rev. the Dean, the Rev. Canon Allwood, Rev. Canon King, the Hon. Alexander Gordon, Q.C. ; Messrs. G. F. Wise, Christopher Rolleston, and M. Metcalfe, having under Rule 5 reported to the General Committee of the Church Society that the number of Subscribers to the Fund had reached one hundred, a meeting of the Subscribers was held on the 13th November, under the presidency of the Most Rev. the Primate, to consider the question of the Appropriation of the Fund which at that time had reached the sum of £4,525 7s. 8d.

The following resolution was passed at the meeting—"That the following gentlemen be appointed a Committee for the ensuing year to manage the Endowment Fund with liberty to invest the fund in the purchase of land or any other securities as opportunity offers, Messrs. T. A. Dibbs, R. Hills, J. Plummer, R. Chadwick, F. W. Uther, W. A. Hutchinson, M. Metcalfe, and the Revs. J. D. Langley and Canon King."

By this Committee Trustees were appointed who executed a Declaration of Trust, and to whom are now paid all moneys received by the Provisional Committee whose functions now consist simply in winding up the loan accounts.

The first annual meeting of the Subscribers to the Fund was held on the 27th November, 1885, when a report and statement of accounts was adopted, and a Committee elected for the ensuing year. The Committee meets on the first Tuesday in each month. Contributions are received by any member of the Committee or by the Secretary, the Rev. S. S. Tovey, the Church Society's House.

The Church Buildings Loan Fund.

The origin of the Church Buildings Loan Fund was a desire to commemorate in some practical way which should be beneficial to the Diocese the completion of the 25th year of the Episcopate of the late Bishop Barker.

A meeting was held in December 1879, when the first steps were taken. The Bishop himself took the matter up warmly, and subscribed the sum of £500, and personally canvassed for subscriptions till his illness, which came on towards the end of 1880, prevented further action.

The sum of £10,000 was asked to be paid by instalments extending over four years. The circular issued at the initiation of the Fund contained the following :—

“The very rapid increase of the population in the suburbs of Sydney has made it imperative to provide increased Church accommodation for the members of the Church of England. From a carefully prepared report of a Committee appointed to make inquiries, it appears that ten or twelve new Churches are greatly needed. The unaided local resources of these places are unequal to supply those needs. To stimulate and assist Church extension, it has been determined to form a “Church Buildings Loan Fund for the Diocese of Sydney.”

It is hoped that the sum of ten thousand pounds at least will be raised for this great object during the next four years. Among the advantages of this plan the following deserve special mention.

1. The loan (without interest) of a larger amount will be more useful than the absolute gift of a smaller sum. The repayments being extended over a number of years will not be burdensome.

2. The money returned from one Trust or Parish will be immediately available for similar objects in another, and thus the fund will be of perpetual use.

3. The saving of interest, which in the ordinary way is so troublesome and expensive an item, sometimes doubling the original cost of the building before the principal can be paid. The following example may be given in illustration :—In 1869 the Churchwardens of—— borrowed £500 from a bank. Since then they have paid more than £500 in interest, and the original debt still remains. Upon the plan of the Loan Fund ten annual instalments of £50 each would have paid the whole debt; the borrowing Parish would have saved £500 in interest alone, and instead of having to grapple with the original debt, would now be free to undertake new enterprises, while the amounts returned to the fund would have been lent to other parishes to afford similar relief.

4. This Fund will stimulate effort and render practicable what without it would be deemed impossible. It is not intended that this Fund shall offer premiums to the indolence or illiberality of parishes, but rather as an incentive and reward to self-help, as Loans will only be made to meet amounts locally raised.

Although Sydney and its suburbs have been most prominently in view in the formation of this fund, it will be seen that its advantages are open to all parts of the Diocese where debts have to be removed, or new buildings provided.

The first loan (free of interest) was made in August, 1880, since which date 56 loans have been made to parishes amounting to £16,845.

The capital of the Fund to 30th June, 1886, is £9271 12s. 10d.

RULES, &c.

I.—Nature and Objects.

The Church Buildings Loan Fund for the Diocese of Sydney shall be formed by Subscriptions, Donations, Legacies, and such monies arising from other sources as may become applicable to the purposes of the Fund.

The Objects of the Fund shall be to encourage and assist the payment of debts on Church Buildings, and to promote the erection, enlargement or improvement of Churches, Parsonages, and School-houses in the Diocese of Sydney by Loans without interest.

II.—Rules and Regulations.

1. The Fund shall be administered by a Committee appointed by the Committee of the Church Society selected from among the contributors to the Fund, and all vacancies that may from time to time occur in such Committee shall in the like manner be filled up by the Committee of the Church Society.

2. There shall be a Treasurer and a Secretary of the Fund who shall be appointed by the Committee of the Church Society and shall be ex-officio Members of the Committee of the Fund.

3. All monies of the Fund shall be deposited from time to time to its credit in one of the Sydney Banks, and its account shall be operated upon only by the joint signatures of the Treasurer and Secretary of the Fund for the time being, and by order of the Committee.

4. The Committee shall meet quarterly for the purpose of considering applications and granting loans.

5. Loans may be made of amounts from £50 to £1000,—and shall be repaid in quarterly or half-yearly instalments over a period to be determined by the Committee in each case but in no instance exceeding ten years. A charge of interest at the rate of Ten per cent. per annum shall be made on all overdue instalments.

6. Of the debts proposed to be liquidated, or of sums proposed to be expended in new erections, enlargements, or repairs, a certain proportion to be determined by the Committee shall be raised by local effort within a specified time.

7. Trustees or others obtaining Loans from the Fund shall give such security as the Committee shall deem sufficient for the due repayment of the same and the fulfilment of the conditions attached thereto.

8. Applications for Loans from the Fund shall not, as a general rule, be entertained unless the property upon which the same is to be extended is duly secured to the Church of England in the Diocese of Sydney, and unless the Parish in which such property is situated has or will engage to establish, within a time to be agreed upon, an Auxiliary to the Church Society.

Clergy Superannuation Fund.

The want of a Fund to provide for aged and infirm clergymen who had faithfully served the Church, and had become unable any longer to properly discharge the duties of their Parish, was strongly felt by the leading members of Synod for some years prior to 1873, but how to provide it was a question hard to solve.

In 1873, an attempt was made, and an Ordinance was passed by the Synod for the purpose, which stipulated that a Pension equal to one third of the clergyman's average income for the previous five years should be paid, part to come out of a fund to be established, and the remainder to be paid by the Parish. But no steps were ever taken to bring this Ordinance into operation.

In the year 1876, a new Ordinance was brought up and passed by the Synod, repealing that of 1873, which new Ordinance required the funds to be provided—

- 1st. By an Annual Subscription of £5 by each clergyman.
- 2nd. By an Annual Payment of at least £8 from each Parish.
- 3rd. By Legacies, Donations, and Annual Subscriptions from Church people generally.

The Pensions fixed to start with were:—After ten years membership to be £50 per annum, with an increase of £3 per annum up to 20 years, and £4 per annum increase after that period; but the trustees have agreed to introduce an Ordinance at the Synod to raise the minimum Pension to £75 per annum.

The Fund completed the 10th year of its existence on the 30th June of the present year. It started with 15 members. In all 53 members have been enrolled during the 10 years; but of these 14 have resigned or left the diocese, and 9 have died, leaving 30 members on the roll at the present time.

During the 10 years £91 5s. has been refunded to those clergymen who have resigned or left the diocese, and £133 15s. (return subscriptions) have been handed to the legal representatives of those who have died.

Of the above over £2000 has been raised by donations and subscriptions from the Laity, including a £50 legacy (apart from parish payments and collections in churches.)

The income was £897 12s. 2d. for the year just ended.

The cost of management for the year, £4 3s. 6d.

No claims on Pension account have yet been made.

Donations, Subscriptions, and Legacies are earnestly solicited, so that the Capital Fund and the rate of Pensions may be increased.

Hon. Treasurer :

Mr. Shepherd Smith.

Secretary :

Mr. William Blair.

This Fund was created in 1867, and adopted by the Synod of the same year. The conditions of membership and the advantages to be derived by the Widows and Orphans of subscribing clergy, are as follows :—

An annual subscription of £5 by each licensed clergyman in the Diocese, admitted to the Fund in accordance with the Rules, and after Medical Certificate obtained.

A similar amount is requested from every Parish or Ecclesiastical District :—In the event of the death of such subscribing Clergyman his widow will be entitled to a pension of Forty Pounds per annum, paid quarterly, and each child under sixteen years of age to a yearly pension of Five Pounds. If, however, the parochial subscription has not been paid in addition to the Clerical subscription, the Widow of such Clergyman will then only be entitled to a pension of Twenty-five pounds per annum, and each child under sixteen to Five Pounds per annum.

The same provision applies to the widow of any clergyman who has subscribed to the Fund for a shorter period than ten years.

The practical embodiment of this arrangement with a view to the admission of new members ; and in justice to those who had joined the Fund from the very first, has been the creation of two classes of beneficiaries, with the minimum pensions of forty pounds and twenty-five pounds per annum, respectively, and for each child (as stated above) five pounds per annum.

The success which has attended the Fund may be gathered from the following facts :—I. The Accumulated Fund now amounts to £13,472 3s. II. Number of subscribing clergy, 43. III. Number of subscribing Parishes, 52. IV. Clergy irrespective of Parishes, 31. V. Number of those receiving Annuities, 13 widows and 8 orphans. VI. The total amount paid out to such claimants since 1873 to widows and children, £2,365 1s. 6d. VII. Present Pensions of Fund paid in 1885 to widows and children, £324 12s. 4d.

The Broughton Memorial Fund, of £1600 has been handed over to the Clergy Widows and Orphans Fund Trustees. The interest accruing is paid regularly to five recipients, at whose deaths the amounts in question will be incorporated with this Society.

The continued success of the Clergy, Widows' and Orphans' Fund as a benefit for the many, and not for the few, depends necessarily on these two conditions :—

First. The reception of an Annual Offertory from every Parish, in addition to the Parochial Subscription.

Secondly. Larger and more liberal donations and subscriptions on the part of Lay Members of the Church throughout the Diocese.

Should these conditions be complied with, the scale of Pensions might be considerably increased.

A very great accession to the Funds of the Society would thus be secured, and a far wider and more general interest aroused among Churchmen as to the operations and benefits of this excellent institution, whose financial soundness has been more than once determined by competent actuarial investigation.

Subscriptions and contributions may be sent direct to credit of the Fund with the Bank of New South Wales.
