PRESENTATION OF WORKING PAPERS

Alterations to Working Papers as circulated at Registration.

Prior to the presentation of Working Papers National President Lee Edwards explained that the National Executive wished to apologise for the fact that, due to an oversight, notices of motion dealing with the Constitution had not been circulated 'to all State/Territory Units three months prior to the National Conference at which they are adopted' (Constitution 8.2). This error had been discovered only a week before the Conference, at which point legal advice had been sought. The National Executive now wished to introduce a motion dealing with the matter which members believed was consistent with the spirit of the Constitution.

2003/1 MOTION: Moved Lee Edwards (National President), seconded Margaret Ker (National Executive).

That this Conference proceeds to debate the constitutional motions namely 3, 8, 9, 10 and 22 and make decisions; such decisions to be ratified by voting delegates from the States/Territory Units at a teleconference to be held at least three months after the Conference.

GUEST SPEAKERS

2003/47 Wong Wai-Yin, Christina (Hong Kong Women's Christian Council) was introduced by Janet Watts. Christina expressed pleasure at being able to attend the Conference and said how impressed she was with the long tradition of Australian Church Women. She spoke of the work of the Hong Kong Christian Women's Council in placing emphasis on new models for women's ministry and encouraging women to generate more thinking on feminist theology. This has involved production of a faith awareness training manual, the organisation of seminars on women's ministry and the organisation of educational programmes. The Council also hopes to train women in leadership to promote Asian Church Women's Conference.

Christina presented to Australian Church Women a hand worked wall hanging depicting Jesus and the woman at the well.

2003/48 Monique Crabtree (2003 Winifred Kiek Scholar) was then introduced by Janet Watts.

Monique expressed her pleasure at being invited to the Conference and shared her faith journey. Born in New Zealand Monique came to Australia with her family when she was 15. She did not come from a church going family background and noted how important the welcoming attitude of fellow worshippers had been to her. By the time she was 18 she realised that she could not lead a fulfilling life without God.

Monique noted the importance of Christian families as witnesses to non Christians.

She had decided to go to Bible College after a period of prayer and discernment and a re examination of her own attitudes.

Without the assistance of the Winifred Kiek Scholarship she would not have been able to continue her studies.

Asked about her future plans Monique said that she hopes to encourage other women to enter ministry. She wants to work in pastoral care, working with people who need to believe in themselves more.
