Brethren in the Lord,—

With the arrival of winter we are again presented with the opportunity of doing good to those who are in need. The Church has always been distinguished by her practical charity,, the motive for which has been found in the words of her Master: "Inasmuch as ye have done it . . . ye have done it unto me."

In previous years I have been greatly encouraged by the response of our people to my Winter Appeal!! Parishes as well as individuals have generously responded. Last year the subscriptions amounted to £504.

The need this year is as great as ever. As a Church we are able to fill in certain gaps in charitable endeavour which are not met by the ordinary governmental agencies. Then, too, some of our own Church people sometimes need a supplementary of their usual grants to meet cases of emergency.

To meet these needs I appeal again for your support. I shall be grateful for gifts for this purpose. These may be sent to me personally at the Diocesan Church House, George Street, Sydney. Acknowledgment will be sent direct, and will also appear in the Diocesan magazine.

Your Archbishop and Friend,

HOWARD SYDNEY.

Heaven in the Lord.

With the arrival of winter, the year is again passing, and the opportunity of doing good is thus the more in need. The Church has always been distinguished by her practical charity, the motive for which has been found in the words of her Master, "Love your neighbor as yourself." It is the duty of every Christian to be ready to do good to all men, as he would that men should do to him.

In previous years I have been greatly encouraged by the response of our people to my Winter Appeal. Ladies as well as individuals have generously responded, and the subscriptions amounted to £104.

The need this year is as great as ever. As a Church we are able to fill in certain gaps in charitable endeavor which are not met by the ordinary governmental agencies. There is a large number of our own Church people who are in need of help, and of those who are not members of our Church, but who are in need of help. It is our duty to meet these needs, and to do so in a way which will be a blessing to all.

I meet these needs I appeal again for your support. I shall be grateful for gifts for this purpose. These may be sent to me personally at the Diocesan Church House, George Street, Sydney. Acknowledgment will be sent direct, and will also appear in the Diocesan magazine.

Your Archbishop and Father,

HOWARD SYDNEY
