Dear Mrs Jones,

Your letter was a great surprise & grief to us, even though the announcement in the Record of your husband's serious illness made me anxious. But he had come through so much, that I faintly hoped he might be permitted to weather this storm. His & our father thought otherwise & now he is "with Christ".

Our hearts go out to you, Maisie & Stephen in loving sympathy & we pray that all peace & comfort may abound towards you. I feel that I have lost one of my dearest & most beloved friends. I thank God on every remembrance of him.

Ever since our youth & early manhood we have been close friends & I have become particularly interested in Moore College & its work through our correspondence & the visit of three years ago. How glad I am that you all came to see us in Oxford. That visit will abide as a happy memory.

It is curious that in a volume of mine on Romans which is now in the press, I have quoted from a paper your husband sent to me on Romans 5. 12-21. I liked the interpretation so much that I incorporated it in my book. I will send you a copy when it appears.

I pray that the work of the College may continue on the same old Evangelical & spiritual lines. I have just heard of the offer of the Principalship to a man in Oxford but I do not as yet know whether he will accept.

Now let me assure you again of our loving sympathy & earnest prayers. My wife sends her love to you & Maisie & Stephen.

Ever yrs sincerely
W H Griffith Thomas
