

CONGRATULATIONS: Miss Phyl McKinnirey has been appointed by her denomination to be President of ACW for 1992/93. Phyl will be installed at the dedication service in May next year. As a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church Parramatta, Phyl has served the Parramatta branch as its co-ordinator and is an enthusiastic member of that branch. As a Catholic delegate to Council, she is well known to us and we welcome her as President-Elect, praying for her the guidance of our Lord as she prepares for this task. To her we pledge our support and help at all times.

Joan Tong, our President has been appointed to the General Committee of Asian Church Women's Conference. Former National Secretary of ACW Margaret Napier of W.A Australia's ACWC representative was appointed Conference Secretary. Joan & Margaret will attend the ACWC meetings in Thailand, October 9 - 15.

NO. 28

MAY, 1991

FROM THE PRESIDENT

As I consider what my personal feelings regarding this first year as president would be, I can do nothing less than give thanks to God, who by His Spirit has made me very aware of His love and power. This awareness has come to me through the fellowship and love found here in the state council. Your encouragement and support has lifted my spirits over and over again and I simply want to thank God for you all.

Much of this year's council work has been to consolidate and extend the programme ACW provides. Through Fellowship of the Least Coin (FLC), the Winifred Kiek Scholarship (WKS), and Asian Church Women's Conference (ACWC), we have opportunities right at our front door that need to be attended to and worked with. Attendances at the special day services where these areas have been given prominence have been a great source of inspiration to many and provided Australian Church Women (ACW) with the opportunities to witness about the success and progress in these areas.

Effort has also been made to further the effectiveness of the work of this council by greater participation of council members. It has been made clear that the work of ACW will only grow and develop if we who are the representatives of our churches and branches go out 'there' to inform and witness that our work is an effective one. This is one of my main areas of challenge that as president I should lead us on to a more effective work among the women of our church communities.

We are an 'ecumenical council'. We have an established base to work on. It is my desire to see this message spread more widely.

It has been easy to work with you. This has been facilitated through the work of all executive members who have faithfully attended to their tasks. I specially wish to pay tribute to Edith Ridge (Secretary), whose constant support and guidance has been my right hand.

Edith is skilled as a secretary, and her knowledge of ACW cannot be faulted. Her graciousness in helping the 'new girl' has not gone unnoticed and I would like it written that without her, the work of this council could not have gone forward in the smooth and excellent manner that it has.

It should also be written that Dorothy Lumb (Treasurer) is an excellent steward of our monies. Dorothy has not had an easy year health-wise, but we praise the Lord that He has lifted her up to be able to continue her work with us.

The highlight for me, was to represent ACW at the Asian Church Women's Conference at Kinaseh, Jakarta, Indonesia.

Reports of this conference have been made in Newsette and the national newsletter of ACW. It has been with a great deal of delight that I have had the opportunity to represent you at many denominational meetings.

Of special significance was the request to join our Catholic sisters at their state conference at Port Macquarie. This gave me an excellent opportunity to make ACW known. Visits to special day services gave me the opportunity to affirm that the strength of ACW is in our branches.

1991/92 gives me the opportunity to further build on the base that we have. It is evident that greater interest and enthusiasm is being shown in many areas. I would like to strengthen council further by giving more specific direction to each denominational group (8 reps.). I envisage using each group as a council within the council to specifically work with their own churches, by informing, educating, serving, enthusing, and generally spreading the message of their involvement in ACW and encouraging more of their churches to participate in our activities.

I recommend that you all plan to be present at the national conference of ACW to be held here in Sydney at the Collaroy Conference Centre, September 9-13, 1991. We have the opportunity to use this conference as a stepping stone, and a great tool to assist us in the NSW council to go forward to greater things. May God bless us all

Joan Tong

THE SECRETARY'S ANNUAL REPORT 1990-1991

In presenting this report of the work of ACW in NSW, I give thanks to God for His guiding and strength, and for another year of good health. Praise Him for the team of wonderful women who encourage each other and who make it a delight to work for this Ecumenical organisation.

The year began with the inspiring Dedication Service and Installation of our President. What a joyful occasion that was! And what a vital, energetic, innovative and spiritual President Joan Tong has proved to be. For all her leadership of us and for her friendship we thank her.

This year has been another busy one. We have been privileged to have as visitors to our country and to our Unit, three delightful young women. Doreen Tie from Malaysia was the 1990 Winifred Kiek Scholar. Her studies were here in Sydney and this gave us the opportunity of getting to know her and of assisting the National WKS Convenor in her work with Doreen. Doreen endeared herself to us when she visited our Council meeting and shared her life story and hopes for the future with us. We love to receive her letters since she returned home.

Rachel Mathew represented her church, the Ma Thoma Church of India at the World Council of Churches 7th. Assembly in February 1991. As a WKS Fellowship holder, she visited three State Units and NSW was privileged to be one of them. At a special meeting called to enable us to meet Rachel, we enjoyed her company and learned much from her. It was a day of great fellowship for all who attended.

Rachel Sobana, also of India came to Australia only in March. Here she will further her nursing education as the 1991 WKS Scholar. Already she has charmed everyone who has met her. We know she will be another successful scholar.

Interest in ACW continues to grow. New information kits produced this year will enable groups enquiring about ACW to be informed and hopefully to be inspired to join us. There has been a steady quickening of interest in FLC, which has kept the convenor very busy.

One of the tasks the executive enjoyed most during the year, was writing the Fellowship Day service on the theme, 'Praise the Lord with Gladness'. We hope that all our groups will receive the same blessing in using it that we received in writing it.

Our members have many talents which they are always happy to share. Two teams of our council members worked lovingly to create the beautiful flower arrangements at the flower festivals held at the two great cathedrals of Sydney, St. Andrews and St. Marys. We were proud to see our name, Australian Church Women on these two lovely displays.

Highlights of our meetings have been: -

- * Sharing the excitement of the National Committee as it plans for the National Conference in September 1991. President Marie McCann introduced us to this with her enthusiastic talk in the June meeting. Since then, we have added a conference spot to the agenda of council meetings. The excitement will grow as we move closer to sharing in this conference.
- * The two meetings when convenors Patricia Burke (FLC) and Mina Whybourne (WKS) shared their life stories with us and told about the work of their convenorships.

- * The visit of Thelma Skiller of the World Council of Churches who talked about the WCC Assembly in its planning stages. One of the things we were encouraged to do was to make 'patches' for the Assembly. There are people in countries around the world who have taken home with them small mementoes created by some of our ACW members.
- * The beautiful devotional 'The Colours of Christmas' brought to us by Marjory Baker.
- * The report given by Marie McCann and Joan Tong on the Asian Church Women's Conference Assembly they attended in Jakarta in 1990. We were pleased to congratulate Joan on her appointment to the General Committee of ACWC and wish her well as she travels to her first meeting later in this year.

The highlight of my year was in representing our State Unit as an accredited visitor at the WCC Assembly. This was an experience I will never forget, and I thank ACW for giving me the opportunity.

Three new ventures we have undertaken are:

- * ACW Pens. This venture has proved a great success. The first run sold out very quickly. The pens being produced for sale in July will celebrate the Fellowship Day service and carry the theme on each pen.
- * A meeting of the executive with representatives of our affiliated denominations and organisations, gave us many good ideas for increasing the work of ACW. We are implementing them as the year goes on.
- * Associate Members. Every year we say good-bye to old and valued friends and welcome new members. Early in 1991 we decided to invite previous delegates to join ACW as Associate Members. In this way we hope to retain our friends as they participate in ACW at a new level.

We are grateful to the members who represent us at other organisations, to the members who host the morning teas each month, to the convenors who faithfully carry out their tasks of promotion, publicity, producing and distributing Newsette, looking after the membership lists, caring for the Winifred Kiek Scholar, helping us to be good stewards for Fellowship of the Least Coin. To Deaconess Mary Andrews we say 'thank you' for looking after the trading table during another year. We thank the Uniting Church for the use of its building and the Salvation Army for welcoming us to its lovely new headquarters.

The finances of the unit are faithfully administered by the Treasurer, Dorothy Lumb. Whatever would we do without the cheerful and capable services of Dorothy? Thank you from us all.

It was with joy that we received the announcement that our member and friend, Miss Phyl McKinnirey was chosen by her denomination to be the President-Elect. Phyl will become the second Catholic president at her installation in May 1992. We welcome her and look forward to working with her during 1991.

For all the blessings of this year we give thanks to God, and for all the days ahead we trust Him.

Edith Ridge. 15.4.91
Hon. Secretary

FELLOWSHIP OF THE LEAST COIN

Fellowship of the Least Coin has had a busy year. Eighty complimentary copies of Newsette were sent out with the receipts in the hope that more people would become subscribers. Newsette is the best way to keep informed of the work of ACW and FLC. At present a copy of 'Small Beginnings' written by Fran Downes is being included with the receipts. It tells the story of the least coin, its beginnings, its hopes and its aspirations.

During the year I have received invitations to speak at the Catholic Cathedral in Brisbane, the Lane Cove Longueville Uniting Church Women's Fellowship, The Church of Christ, Fairfield and the Salvation Army at Bexley North. I do appreciate the opportunity to spread the word about FLC. At each place my common plea to fellow Christians has been that we take time to praise and thank God for the wonderful gift we have in Australia of clean water and beseech others to pray for those who have not clean water.

Being Convenor of FLC has been a privilege and I would like to record my thanks to all those who have supported and encouraged me during the past year. Surely the Epistle of James, chapter 2, verses 18 & 26 is lived in the Fellowship of the Least Coin, "Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith and I have works; show me thy faith without thy works, and I will show thee my faith by my works. For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also."

Patricia Burke.
F.L.C. Convenor.

WINIFRED KIEK SCHOLARSHIP

The purpose of this scholarship is to provide supplementary training for a Christian woman from the Asian, Indian or Pacific areas.

Our 1990 scholar, Doreen Tie Chin Bing from Sarawak, Malaysia, was a charming attractive lass of twenty three years, who worked with intellectually handicapped children in a special school in her home city of Kuching. She wished to further her knowledge and training and this was arranged for her with the Developmental Disabilities Services Training School at Lidcombe. Subsequently she was able to visit the Spastic Centre and other similar institutions to observe and learn.

Doreen was able to attend and speak at several ACW meetings during her stay in Sydney, and also visited Canberra, our national capital, where she had the opportunity of meeting members. She then visited Melbourne, meeting ACW members and also visiting a special school and an Adult Training Centre for the intellectually handicapped; then to Tasmania and Adelaide where Doreen met with Margaret Knauerhause (Winifred Kiek's daughter) and to Perth with further meetings and visits and eventually Doreen flew back to Kuching on December 11, commencing work the next day! Doreen has written us that she has been able to implement some of the ideas she acquired in Australia and has found her principal and colleagues are very happy to accept these. She is very busy and would value our prayers as she prepares her programmes for the children in her care. She was most grateful to Australian Church Women and particularly Lucelle King, our national WKS convenor, for arranging such a comprehensive and helpful programme for her.

Sister Rachel Sobana, our 1991 scholar, from Southern India, arrived in March. She is a very petite attractive young woman of twenty-five years. Rachel is to observe and gain knowledge in nursing administration. She will be attending our national conference in September.

(A report of the WKS Fellowship lady who visited NSW - Rachel Mathew, is in the secretary's report.)

Our 1978 WKS scholar, Sr. Barkat Kishan Das was made a deaconess in Karachi Cathedral, Pakistan on Jan, 13, 1991, and she is now working with Deaconess Shirley Harris (of the Church Missionary Society) in Karachi in caring for the children's home.

We pray for Malini Weerasinghe (Mrs Devananda) in Sri Lanka that God will bless and protect her and all our WKS scholars, especially those working in the troubled areas of the world.

Mina Whybourne,
WKS Convenor.

NEWSETTE REPORT

It has been a worthwhile task through another year to continue to produce our state unit news magazine four times a year. I have enjoyed bringing each issue together, both from convenor's reports and office-bearers contributions, and from items of interest and 'bits and pieces' which I cull from a variety of sources, seeking to make the paper informative, and give us all something to 'stretch our minds', encourage our spirits, and strengthen our endeavours, both in our own denominations and in ecumenical activities.

It has been very encouraging to receive a considerable number of compliments from subscribers, with expressions of how much they enjoy reading Newsette, which now goes to nearly 300 subscribers around the state and elsewhere.

If you do not receive it and would like to, the subscription is $4.00 per year and the subscription secretary is Mrs Marie Majoor, 521 Mowbray Rd, Lane Cove NSW 2066. Telephone 428.2384

PROMOTION/SPECIAL DAYS

There have been 34 branches holding Fellowship Day services and 36 holding World Community Day services during the past year. Attendances have dropped in many cases, but in others there have been reports of increases. The themes "In the Beginning God" and "Caretakers of Creation", were well received, and there was some interesting feedback in the reports following both Special Days.

In the parcels of Orders of Service being sent out this year, we are including an updated list of speakers, all of whom are ACW council members willing to visit city and/or country areas to address the theme as set for the Special Day. We trust that branches will avail themselves of this offer by the ladies, all of whom will be equipped to answer questions concerning ACW aims, projects and activities.

We are still pressing the need for the prompt return of Order Forms for each of the Special Days please. It saves much time and expense when we know in plenty of time how many Orders of Service are going to be required. Printing is in hand four months prior to the date of each service, and is followed shortly after by packing day so that branches can be helped as early as possible in their individual planning. Therefore, contact persons are asked, please, to see that the Order Form is not forgotten, and to be sure that their name and address is clearly printed along with the venue and time and name of speaker for the service and, what is most important, the NUMBERS (as near as possible) of Orders of Service required.

We hope it will help in the planning for World Community Day in October to know that the theme for 1991 is: "Forward Together in Faith".

Several information kits have been despatched following enquiries and we pray that they will be used for the formation of new branches of ACW in areas where we as yet have no contact.

Let us, church women our nation over, go forward together in faith, proudly standing to be counted, united in Christ and, through the power of the Holy Spirit, witnessing to Him.

Peg Blake,
Convenor.

PUBLICITY

Fellowship Day 1990 ...News releases were forwarded to most church papers, but because of publication deadlines, we missed out on some monthly papers. Releases were sent to metropolitan and community radio stations. Feedback from the radio releases was excellent with many women attending Fellowship Day services because they "heard it on the radio".

World Community Day ..Publicity for WCD concentrated on radio, although releases were forwarded to church papers. Metropolitan radio stations received details of ACW and concentrated on the City branch service and a telephone number to call for local details. There were a number of responses to the telephone number. All community radio stations received a release with definite details of the service being conducted in their local area. Local newspapers are dependant upon the local branch giving them details and many branches have had excellent write-ups of their services including two front pages and photographs.

front pages and photographs. Well done local branches!

ANNUAL SERVICE OF DEDICATION ..Church papers, weekly and monthly have received their press releases and we are looking forward to some excellent publicity. Radio releases are currently being prepared .

RADIO ...It is no secret that radio has a huge audience and most radio stations are anxious to give radio time to releases which are interesting and pithy. The publicity department is working on this and with the Promotions Convenor we are hoping to encourage our local branches to do the same and work with their local community radio stations on the FM band.

Jeanne Sutherland
Convenor.

YWCA (Affiliated group)

The YWCA (Sydney) is pleased to be part of Australian Church Women and are represented on the executive of the state unit. The YWCA, a long established and well known organisation provides more than first class accommodation in the city but is active in the following areas:

Emergency housing
Workplace programme
Big sister/Big brother programme
On going groups meeting for social purposes
Standing committees
Seminars
School vacation programmes.

There are many other activities and the YWCA annual report sets all these out. A large number of Y members are active in their local branches of ACW. YWCA (Sydney) as well as being part of the state unit works with the city branch, planning and business meetings for city branch being held at the YWCA. The president, Mrs Gwen Jones, and executive director, Mary Guthrie are faithful in their attendance at everything for ACW.

Jeanne Sutherland
YWCA (Sydney) Representative.

NSW ECUMENICAL COUNCIL

In last year's report of the work of the Council, the good news was the foreshadowing of the joining of the Roman Catholics as full members of the NSW Ecumenical Council. Bishop Bede Heather, of the Parramatta Diocese, told how this could be done; by contacting the Bishop of each NSW Diocese, as the Bishop is autonomous in his own See. This has now been accomplished as far as the Parramatta Diocese is concerned. An ecumenical service to celebrate this was held in St Johns Cathedral at Parramatta. This service was preceded by an interesting and informative talk by Michael Tate, minister for Justice. (Reported in Newsette).

At last year's half-yearly meeting we were given insight into an ecumenical experiment in Milton Keynes in England. The speaker was Rev. Cethin Abraham-Williams, who, although he has such an unusual sounding name, turned out to be a normal-looking and speaking Baptist minister. In Milton Keynes, the ministers, (with the approval of the heads of the denominations) exchange pulpits on a regular basis.

At the annual meeting for 1990 at Epping, we listened to Bishop Max Thomas, Warden of St. Paul's College at Sydney University. He is a member of the International Commission for Anglican-Orthodox Theological dialogue and they meet in different countries. They appear to be still talking about whether the Holy Spirit proceeds from the Father, (the orthodox position) or from the Father and the Son (filioque). They decided perhaps it would be more profitable to talk less about relationships and more about function.

At the ecumenical service the preacher was a woman Ms Colleen O'Reilly. Mr. Ed Walker (husband of Elizabeth who was ACW's treasurer for a time), was re-elected as president of the NSW Ecumenical Council.

Mrs Colonel F Peterson
Delegate for ACW to NSWEC.

NSW COUNCIL FOR CHILDREN'S FILMS AND T.V.

This council has now ceased to provide films for children, so that its main purpose is the monitoring of children's TV programmes and the provision of suitable children's videos. The council has a very good supply of children's videos which are available for hire. Videos are provided free of charge to children's wards of larger hospitals.

We all have a responsibility to complain about any programme in general viewing time that is not suitable, and to write to show our appreciation for worthwhile programmes. All complaints can be lodged with the Australian Broadcasting Tribunal which is now in Melbourne. Phone 008 337 417, or at the various TV Stations.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN

It has been both a privilege and a pleasure for Edith Ridge and myself to represent ACW on the NCW during the past year. The meetings have been interesting, stimulating - sometimes controversial, but very rewarding as we have continued to work for the welfare of women and family. Many letters have been written, and recommendations made to our government bodies and representatives.

It was with a deep sense of sadness that we learned of the illness and subsequent untimely death of our Governor, Rear Admiral Sir David Martin KCMG, AO, which resulted in the resignation of our patron, Lady Martin from July 1990. Lady Martin was greatly interested in the work of NCW and was a gracious encourager.

Deaconess Mary Andrews has continued to organise the trading table, and an amount of $319 has been raised for NCW funds during the past year.

Thank you ladies, for allowing us to represent you on NCW.

Edith Ridge & Shirley Wells,
Delegates to NCW.

NSW WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

The World Day of Prayer - Australia (NSW Committee) reports that this ministry is 'on the move' in New South Wales and thousands of men and women join together in hundreds of centres to worship and pray together.

The prepared programme faithfully sent out each year to the various centres is appreciated by everyone, and particularly now that the committee is preparing two extra programmes - one for young people between 8 - 11 years and another for High School students. It is gratifying to know that the service is being held in schools and colleges throughout New South Wales.

An interesting point is that the service is increasingly being used in retirement villages to good effect, and also the Salvation Army is using the service in social centres.

The 1991 service was written by the women of Kenya, and the city service was held this year in the new Salvation Army Sydney Congress Hall in Elizabeth St. The service was well attended, musical items being provided by the Women's Singing Group from the Salvation Army, and the speaker, Sr. Patricia Kent, who served for some time in Kenya held the interest of all present, and her message was very much appreciated.

The committee for NSW under the leadership of Mrs Lt. Colonel Lillian Schoupp (President) works harmoniously, their own desire being that the ministry of the World Day of Prayer will increase in challenge and blessing.

Brigadier Ruth Smith
Representative of ACW on World Day of Prayer committee.

ECUMENICAL DECADE OF CHURCHES SOLIDARITY WITH WOMEN

I have been a member of this committee since its formation in 1988. Members are drawn from such diverse denominations as Anglican, Catholic, Salvation Army, Greek Orthodox, Society of Friends and the Uniting Church. The YWCA is also represented. Other ACW members who attend are Helen Ridgeman and Deaconess Mary Andrews.

Under the gentle and loving leadership of Jenny Johnston, we have become a caring, concerned and informed group. During 1990 the focus of our concern was with refugee women, those from South-East Asia, in particular. Working with the Refugee and Migrant Services of the NSW Ecumenical Council, we have been able to help some of these women to come to Australia as migrants and to assist them materially and with friendship after their arrival.

Our project for 1991 is Women in Isolation. The committee is exploring ways of offering friendship and assistance to our sisters in remote areas of our state and to those whose isolation is no less real because they live in a big city.

Many of our members were participants at the recent Assembly of the World Council of Churches. The plenary document 'The Churches in Solidarity with Women' is being studied with the object of showing us ways we can implement its findings and introduce it to our churches.

We meet in the board room of the Australian Council of Churches, 7th Floor, 379 Kent St, Sydney at 1.00 p.m. on the 2nd Thursday of each month. New members are invited. You are assured of a very warm welcome at this committee. How about it, members of the denominations not represented? You will be among friends I promise you.

Edith Ridge
Representative to the committee.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

I have examined the books of account and records of AUSTRALIAN CHURCH WOMEN (N.S.W. STATE UNIT) for the year ended 28th February, 1991. In my opinion the Statement of Receipts and Payments for the year ended 28th February, 91, show a true and correct view of the result for that year, and of the state of affairs as at 28th February, 1991.
